JOSEPH W. BAILEY TO ADDRESS DEMOCRATS OF MILAM COUNTY

Joseph Weldon Bailey, former United States Senator and now a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor of Texas, will deliver his first campaign address in Milam county Wednesday afternoon, August 18, on the court house lawn in Cameron at 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon.

Announcement that Senator Bailey would speak in Cameron was made in a telegram received here Monday afternoon from Luther Nickels in Dallas to E. A. Wallace, one of the Bailey campaign managers in Milam county.

Bailey managers in Milam county have been trying to arrange a speaking date for the former senator for the past several weeks or since the beginning of the second primary campaign. The announcement from Mr. Bailey's headquarters that he would be able to include Cameron in his speaking campaign was received here with much interest by his friends and supporters and there has been a very active effort to give the speaking date wide publicity over the county and adjoining counties.

Friends of Mr. Bailey predict that 5000 or more people will be in Cameron to hear the former senator discuss his campaign for governor. With this in mind they are preparing to accommodate the largest political gathering ever held in this county and expect a large representation from five or more counties on account of our connection as a junction city with Santa Fe, S. A. & A. P. and I. & G. N. railways.

The campaign has progressed in a spirit of interest the like of which has seldom been seen in Texas politics. The fact that Mr. Bailey was able to lead the ticket in the recent primary has increased his prestige for the nomination and the close vote by which he led Pat Neff of Waco has added to the intensity of the run-off campaign.

Little active effort was made in this county prior to the July primary in the interest of Mr. Bailey but now that the former senator is leading by more than 2500 votes his friends are fired with zeal and enthusiasm to make a successful campaign.

Among the more important topics to which Mr. Bailey has addressed himself during the campaign are the open and closed shop issues and the issues will be given considerable attention when Mr. Bailey makes his first address in this county on next Wednesday.

The Milam County Bailey for Governor Club have arranged speaking dates in the county for local friends of the ex-senator.

CARTER MARKET SOLD TO TYSON

WORK BEGUN REMODELING MARKET AS NEW MANAGEMENT TAKES OVER BUSINESS

Announcement is made today that R. R. Tyson and brother, Van Tyson, have purchased the Carter meat market in Cameron and have taken charge of the business.

The business will be in charge of R. R. Tyson, his brother spending the larger part of his time on their ranches and farms near Gause and Maysfield.

Mr. Tyson will conduct a first class meat market in every way and will install such sanitary and new equipment as will be necessary to make it such. One of the features of this market will be the fact that a large percent of the beef cattle sold will be raised on the Tyson farms and ranches.

Mr. Tyson will increase the number of meat articles sold at the market and will handle at all times practically every kind of meat to be found anywhere. A lunch room will be conducted in connection with the market.

Mr. Tyson formerly represented Milam county in the Legislature, is a progressive citizen and business man.

CHAMBERS-HEFLEY MOTOR CO. READY TO SELL TRACTORS

WILL SEND LOCAL SALESMEN AND TRACTOR CLINIC TO BIG MEET AT NAVASOTA

With the view of bringing about a better condition of utility on the farms of Milam County the Chambers-Hefley Motor Company will participate in the two day meeting of Tractor dealers to be held in Navasota on September 2 and 3.

The Chambers-Hefley Motor Company distribute the Fordson Tractor in Cameron and adjacent territory.

The company, according to the announcement of C. C. Caldwell, will send its tractor salesman to Navasota and also will send its tractor clinic and all necessary mechanics to take full advantage of the opportunity presented in improving sales and farm methods by placing this modern utility.

The Chambers-Hefley Motor Company, selling the Fordson Tractor in this territory, has placed a large number of these modern farm utilities on farms in Milam county and on last season conducted a successful sales and educational campaign despite the prevailing bad weather conditions.

At this time the local company is laying plans for a successful tractor campaign in this territory. Shipments of tractors have been received from time to time and the company now has complete quantities of these modern farm utilities.

The farm is rapidly being motorized in Texas as well as in all parts of the United States. In some sections progress has been slow in this respect but where tractors are given a trial on farms the community immediately realizes great thrift and industry on the farm and an increased production results.

It is not longer logical, as Mr. Caldwell points out, for the farmer to cling to the old method of cultivating the soil, when such wide-spread progress has been made with the tractor and in the face of the increased efficiency made possible by their use on the farms.

Plowing or breaking the soil for the planting of crops requires more power than any other problem on the farm. It is here that the tractor is at its best for it not only has the power but in speed and character of work makes the horse and plow method too costly and too slow in these days of modern hustle and bustle.

To motorize the farms in Milam county will mean a decided advancement in farm methods the result of which will be a net great increase in yield. Tractor supply power for every problem on the farm. They are being used for many purposes and it is hoped that their sale will increase in this county.

Miss Elam Jackson had her tonsils removed at the Cameron Sanitarium Wednesday.

TRADE TERRITORIES GREET BUSINESS MEN WHO PUSH ADVANTAGES OF CAMERON BUYING.

Cameron's First Annual Trade Trip and Industrial Tour extending to all parts of Milam county and near 200 miles of travel, supported by more than 150 business men representing every phase of commercial life in the city, has passed into record as the most far reaching and beneficial trade endeavor in the history of this county.

On last Thursday afternoon with banners streaming and bands crashing the auto train near a mile in length hustled down the business streets of Cameron on the home-stretch of the two day trip. After the parade in the business district the day concluded with a band concert. The last lap of the trip was made from Maysfield, the last stop in the schedule. Pilot Monta Thomas led the train home ahead of schedule thus concluding a remarkable pace kept up throughout the trip.

The first day of the trip was spent in the southern end of the county with dinner at Thorndale.

Beginning at 8 o'clock Thursday the boosters joined by an additional number of automobiles and business men who could not make the first trip, put out for Buckholts. In this enterprising little city on the Santa Fe fifteen miles southeast of Cameron the boosters spent a full half hour mingling with the people and preaching Cameron trade advantages.

Hon. A. J. Lewis, newly elected county attorney of Milam county, was the orator of the day and delivered his first address of the day in Buckholts from a motor truck on the main street. The band under Director Medsker played for the citizens who gathered to meet the Camerons.

From Buckholts the Boosters went to Yarrellton and in the little town set comfortably among the blooming cotton fields of that great farming section, met farmers and business men and talked to them of the commercial advantages of Cameron. The band played and soon the train was flowing out in an even stream of motor units across fertile fields into the heart of the north Cameron trade territories dotted by farm homes adjacent to the towns of Ben Arnold, Burlington and Wokaty.

The fourth stop of the day was made at Ben Arnold on the Sap railroad north of Cameron. Here the Boosters spent about 30 minutes mingling with the good people there and distributing advertising literature. Mr. Lewis made a speech to the crowd assembled.

At Burlington the Boosters were served lunch. Here Mr. Lewis made the most enthusiastic address of the day in response to the address of welcome delivered by the Catholic Priest. He praised Cameron and gave them a general good talk along industrial lines. From Burlington the Boosters went to Clarkson, and thence to Jones Prairie. From there they went to Baileyville and came back to Maysfield the last stop of the trip and from there to Cameron.

It is planned to make the trip an annual affair. This should be acted upon by the Commercial Club at its regular meeting.

COTTON FARMERS REFUSE TO SELL SEED CONTRACT IS LET FOR NEW CHURCH ORGANIZE AND LEASE STORAGE FOR PRODUCT; MOVEMENT MAY SPREAD OVER THE SOUTH

Contract has been awarded for the erection of the new building for the Methodist church in Cameron to the J. E. Johnson construction company of Waco.

The contract price for the finished building is $80,700. The building is to be completed within 90 working days and will be ready for occupancy by April 1921.

This will be the largest and most modern church building in the county and will compare favorably with any in Central Texas. It is a monument to a great progressive religious body in Cameron and all the people join in with them in grateful appreciation of their magnificent effort.

It is planned, according to the announcement of Rev. Ira F. Key, the pastor, to entertain the Texas annual conference of the church one year from this fall.

An Old Soldier On Bailey's War Record

During the late world war Bailey was opposed to America's taking a stand for freedom and human liberty. When Congress and President Wilson had decided that to remain longer out of the conflict would be the course of cowardice and a forfeiture of our national self-respect, and when patriotic men and women at home were spending their energy and their money to furnish our boys in the trenches with comfort and equipment, Bailey shut his mouth, and remained silent, refusing to make a four-minute speech to encourage the purchase of Liberty Bonds; and now gives, as his reason, that he could not afford to ask his friends to buy these bonds because he believed they would go below par and sell at a discount.

Perhaps the most scathing rebuke of this war record of the ex-senator from Texas was given by Col. Marchbanks of Waxahachie, an old Confederate soldier, who introduced Pat Neff to his Waxahachie audience of more than two thousand on August 6. Col. Marchbanks is over 70 years of age. His only son was killed in action on the fields of France, fighting under the American flag.

"The old man, white haired, white bearded, hands clasped behind his back, made a fine figure as he stood with erect shoulders and quivering voice, addressing his fellow townsmen. 'I represent the American people, he said. 'When they asked me to speak tonight, I did not want to do it, but a voice told me not to decline when duty calls. Thoughts went over the ocean. I saw the wounded and the dead there. I saw my boy and I knew it was my duty to speak tonight. Not in a personal partisan way but for a great cause.

'When I came out of Appomattox I said I did not ever want any more war. But in all these years I have always been for my country, right or wrong and I have not criticised our Presidents, either Democratic or Republican. Much less did I criticize our great President Woodrow Wilson, who led my boy to war. My wife and I bought a $50.00 Liberty Bond and the bank carried it, and we paid it out on the installment plan. It never occurred to me whether I would get a dollar out of it or not, and I never cared. The man who was too scrupulous about that ought to have told his fellow-countrymen that they might go down, but to buy them so we could win the war. My boy put as much as he could of his poor little $30.00 salary into Liberty Bonds too, and he never asked how much they would be worth, and whether they would carry a premium. And he did not shut his mouth, but went on, willing to give his life for his country. I am not willing to trust a man who was not willing to trust his country during the war. I am not willing to trust a man who was silent when death and danger swept over his country.'

Cotton farmers of Milam county have determined by agreement not to sell cotton seed for less than $50 per ton prior to September 1, and for not less than $60 per ton hereafter.

This agreement was reached at a mass meeting of the farmers held in Cameron on Tuesday of this week. More than 200 farmers attended the meeting from all parts of the county and the resolution adopted is strong in purpose and clarity outlining the basis on which the farmers take this action.

The resolution alleges that cotton seed prices are as low as $17.50 per ton and that this quotation is in effect confiscatory, being far below the cost of production.

An effort is being made to extend the agreement to all parts of Texas and the cotton states.

The meeting was called to order by J. K. Freeman, Cameron attorney and cotton expert. In a ringing speech denouncing the price quotations Mr. Freeman declared that the prices offered will result in a loss of $50,000,000 to the cotton farmers of Texas. He also said that an increase in the price of ginning will put $5,000,000 more on the farmers of Texas.

It was announced in the course of the meeting that the farmers had rented the Farmers' Union Warehouse in Cameron to store seed, the storage work being under the direction of the executive committee of the county, chosen at the meeting.

T. S. Henderson also addressed the farmers suggesting an organized effort all over the country.

W. A. Morrison declared the situation an "economic crime" and suggesting that the anti trust laws be enforced.

J. A. Bailey, farmer and chairman of the Jones Prairie meeting where the matter was first discussed gave some figures and facts regarding the situation declaring that at the present rate of decrease in cultivation that in 15 years the farming industry will have perished.

He declared for organization and a legitimate profit on the product of the farmer as a means of sustaining the industry and warding off disaster.

Following is the executive committee for the county: B. F. Pugh, Cameron; H. P. McKinney, Jones Prairie; J. L. York, Milano; E. E. Eiland, Rockdale; Ben Massey, Rockdale; W. H. Bonds, Buckholts; W. G. Frazier, Cameron; J. F. Jackson, Rockdale.

J. K. Freeman elected Chairman of the meeting and J. E. Cherry of Rockdale, secretary.

Following is the committee to meet the growers: Nick McBurnet, Rockdale; J. A. Bailey, Jones Prairie; Bryan Swanzey, Buckholts; Bob Sharpe, Cameron; Paul Graves, Buckholts.

We, your committee, recommend or submit the following as our report:

BE IT RESOLVED
That we, the Cotton Growers of Mil-

lam County, in convention assembled in the City of Cameron, on the 9th day of August 1920.

1. That the prevailing price, $17.50 per ton, offered for cotton seed at the beginning of this season is less than the cost of production.

2. That no reason or cause exists for that low price. The average price for cotton seed for the 1919 crop was $60.00 per ton. The present present price, $25.00 per ton, a reduction of $35.00 per ton. This reduction estimating the 1920 crop at 3,000,000 bales, will be a loss of $2,500,000 to the farmers of Texas, on seed alone. The growers, encouraged by the example of the Cotton Seed Association, have advanced the price of ginning $1.60 per bale, and the price for bagging and ties for wrapping, 25 cents per bale, a total of $1.85, or a total burden imposed upon the farmers of the State of $5,500,000.00. That the reduction in the price of seed, and the advance in the price of ginning and bagging and ties are the result of some price fixing arrangement, unjust, unfair and ruinous to the Cotton Growers of the State.

3. That we obligate ourselves to sell no seed of this crop, prior to September 1, for a less sum than $50.00 per ton, and no seed after September 1, for a less sum than $60.00 per ton.

4. That the advance in the price since the opening of the season inspires us in the belief that we will receive a better price for our cotton seed produced this year; and that such advance in the price strengthens us in our determination to hold our seed for the price above named.

5. That we urge the cotton growers in each community throughout the county to arrange at once for storage facilities, so that all cotton seed may be held until the prices above named are obtained.

6. That we request and urge the cotton growers in other counties of the State to hold meetings and make suitable arrangements for withholding their cotton seed from the market until a fair price can be obtained.

7. That we recommend and urge that the cotton growers of the various counties throughout the state hold County Conventions and arrange for a State Convention at an early day, so that the Cotton Growers may reach an agreement and combine their efforts in the protection of the price of their products.

8. That each of our county papers and other papers throughout the State be furnished with a copy of these resolutions, with the request that the same be published.

Respectfully,
B. D. MASSEY, Chairman
H. P. MCKINNEY, Secretary,
Committee

COX CHAMPIONS LEAGUE COVENANT

Democratic Nominee In Militant Speech Marches With Standard Into Race For Presidential Nomination Scores Senatorial Cabal.

Fair Grounds, Dayton, O., Aug. 7.—Governor James M. Cox Saturday received and accepted formally the democratic presidential nomination.

On the league issue, and generally the democratic standard bearer declared he presented to the American people a choice between democratic progress and reactionary republicanism.

Prohibition was mentioned only by the inference of a strong declaration for law enforcement. The governor urged ratification of the woman suffrage amendment and pledged many reforms, including tax reduction and economy in government.

Senator Robinson of Arkansas, who delivered the notification speech, hailed the candidate as an "experienced and progressive-minded leader, with a long record of achievements during his three terms as Ohio's governor."

Delegations Parade
A salvo of applause was given the marchers from Marion. Senator Harding's home. They were led by 150 women and carried a banner declaring "We're here, Jimmy; all from Marion."

Another said, "No, Cox never played a horn and he won't play second fiddle to any senate bunch."

The governor got several laughs out of the banners, which included the statement, "A little too warm on the front porch."

Innumerable legends were on banners carried by the marchers.

A Milwaukee contingent said: "The vote that will make Milwaukee famous—Cox, 99½ per cent; Harding ½ of 1 per cent."

About a hundred miners from the Cambridge, O., coal district drew a wave of applause when they appeared in working clothes and safety head lamps. "Jimmy Cox, the friend of the miners," was on their banners.

Clermont county, Ohio, pilgrims carried a banner claiming the honor of being the first Cox Club in the country by organization July 6 at 4 p. m. after the flash came from San Francisco. They received an extra tribute from the governor and spectators.

Notables Present
The amphitheater was crowded long before the parade arrived and the sun swelled the receipts of the soft drink vendors.

Mrs. Cox and Mrs. Roosevelt, the governor's daughter, Mrs. J. D. Mahoney, with other relatives and friends of the candidate's occupied a large box directly across the press section from the speakers' stand.

Other boxes held democratic notables galore. To one side of the speakers' stand was seated the notification committee and to the rear the democratic national committee.

Stepping upon the speakers' stand the governor and Mr. Roosevelt received the marchers, waving their hands and shouting occasionally to friends they recognized. Also on the reviewing stand were Chairman White of the national committee, and Gilbert Cox, 87, father of the presidential candidate.

The parade ended at 4 o'clock with greetings to many hundred Dayton democrats.

Mr. Roosevelt was presented to the throng as "the next vice-president," and was given an ovation. Senator Robinson then delivered his address of notification.

"A few years ago Cox's army marched on Washington. Another army, Jimmy Cox's army will advance and take the White House in November."

J. O. NEWTON PURCHASES STOCK OF ROCKDALE FIRM

Gen. J. O. Newton, formerly president and general manager of J. B. Newton & Sons, general mercantile establishment at Milano, has severed his connection with that institution and purchased the R. L. Hale stock in Scarborough & Hicks Company at Rockdale, and becomes an associate with the business. Gen. Newton is an experienced merchant, a good cotton buyer, and a genuine and thorough going business man. He is well and favorably known in the Rockdale trade territory and throughout Milan county, and while Milano has suffered a great loss in his departure, Rockdale will profit by claiming him as one of her citizens. Gen. Newton is now in actual charge of Scarborough & Hicks Company's business, and will remove his family to Rockdale in the near future.—Milano Gazette.

Partial text of the speech of Gov. Cox:

Chairman Robinson, and members of the notification committee: The message which you bring from the great conference of progressive thought assembled under the formal auspices of the democratic party inspires within me a pride and an appreciation which I can not voice. At the same time I am mindful of the responsibility which this function now officially places upon me. As I measure my own limitations the task ahead of us should be approached with more than a feeling of diffidence if I were not strengthened and reassured by the faith that one has only to practice true fidelity to conscience. It is not the difficult thing to know what we ought to do; the sense of right and wrong has been given with divine equality. The mistakes of history are the result of weakness in the face of tempting interests. I thank God therefore, that I am to take up the standard of democracy a free man, unfettered by promises and happy in the consciousness of untrammelled opportunity to render a service in the name of government that will hold for the confidence which it deserves.

Straight Thinking
We are in a time which calls for straight thinking, straight talking and straight acting. This is no time for wobbling. Never in all our history has more been done for government. Never was sacrifice more sublime. The most precious things of heart and home were given up in a spirit which guarantees the perpetuity of our institutions—if the faith is kept with those who served and suffered. The altar of our republic is drenched in blood and tears, and he who turns away from the tragedies and obligations of the war, not consecrated to a sense of honor and of duty which resists every base suggestion of personal or political expediency, is unworthy of the esteem of his countrymen.

The men and women who by expressed policy at the San Francisco convention charted our course in the open seas of the future sensed the spirit of the hour and phrased it with clarity and courage. It is not necessary to read and re-read the democratic platform to know its meaning. It is a document clear in its analysis of conditions and plain in the pledge of word and intent. Proud of the leadership and achievement of the party in war, democracy faces unafraid the problems of peace. Indeed, its pronouncement has but to be read along with the platform framed by the republican leaders in order that both spirit and purpose as they dominate the opposing organizations may be contrasted. On the other a cautious, unhappy spirit and the treatment of subjects vital to the present and the future, in terms that mind. It was clear that the senatorial oligarchy had been given its own way in the selection of the presidential candidate, but it was surprising that it was able to fasten into the party platform the creed of hate and bitterness and the vacillating policy that possesses it.

Senatorial Cabal
In the midst of war the present senatorial cabal, led by Senators Lodge, Penrose and Smoot, was formed. Superficial evidence of loyalty to the president was deliberate in order that the great rank and file of their party faithful and patriotic to the very core, might not be offended. But underneath this misleading exterior, conspirators planned and plotted, with bigoted zeal. With victory to our arms they delayed and obstructed the works of peace. If deemed useful to the work in hand no artifice for interfering with our constitutional peace-making authority was rejected. Before the country knew, yea, before these men themselves knew the details of the composite plan, formed at the peace table, they declared their opposition to it. Before the treaty was submitted to the senate in the manner the constitution provides, they violated every custom and every consideration of decency by presenting a copy of the document, procured unblushingly from enemy hands, and passed it into the printed record of senatorial proceedings. From that hour dated the enterprise of throwing the whole subject into a technical discussion, in order that the public might be confused.

Fateful Times
These are fateful times. Organized government has definite duty all over the world. The house of civilization is to be put in order. The supreme issue of the century is before us and the nation that halts and delays is playing with fire. The finest impulses of humanity, rising above national lines, merely seek to make another horrible war impossible. Under the old order of international anarchy war came overnight, and the world was on fire before we knew it. It sickens our senses to think of another. We saw one conflict into which modern science brought new forms of destruction in great guns, submarines, airships, and poison gases. It is no secret that our chemists had perfected, when the contest came to precipitate close, gases so deadly that whole cities could be wiped out, arms destroyed, and the crews of battleships smothered. The public prints are filled with the opinions of military men that in future wars the method more effective than gases or bombs, will be the employment of germs of disease, carrying pestilence and destruction. Any nation prepared un-

COX TAKES FIRM STAND
ATTACKS REPUBLICANS.

Senator Harding makes this new pledge of policy in behalf of his party:

"I promise you formal and effective peace so soon as a republican congress can pass its declaration for a republican executive to sign."

This means but one thing—a separate peace with Germany!

This plan would not only be a piece of bungling diplomacy, but plain unadulterated dishonesty as well.

No less an authority than Senator Lodge said, before the heat of the recent controversy, that to make peace except in company with the allies would "brand us everlastingly with dishonor and bring ruin to us."

In recounting the part America played in the war the governor said:

"And yet there is not a line in the republican platform that breathes an emotion of pride, or recites our national achievement! In fact, if a man from Mars were to depend on the republican platform or its outspoken interpretation, by the candidate of the party, as his first means of information, he would not find a syllable telling him that the war had been won, and that America had saved the world."

They preach Americanism with a meaning of their own invention, and artfully appeal to a selfish and provincial spirit, forgetting that Lincoln fought a war over the purely moral question of slavery, and that McKinley broke the fetters of our boundary lines, spoke the freedom of Cuba, and carried the torch of American idealism to the benighted Philippines. They lose memory of Garfield's prophecy that America under the blessings of God-given opportunity would, by her moral leadership and co-operation become a Messiah among the nations of the earth.

The plain truth is that the republican leaders, obsessed with a determination to win the presidential election, have attempted to satisfy too many divergent views. Inconsistencies, inevitable under the circumstances, rise to haunt them on every hand.

More than that their conduct is opposed to the idealism on which their party prospered in other days.

These are fateful times. Organized government has a definite duty all over the world. The house of civilization is to be put in order. The supreme issue of the century is before us, and the nation that halts and delays is playing with fire. The finest impulses of humanity rising above national lines merely seek to make another horrible war impossible.

The discourtesy to the president is an affair of political intrigue. History will make it odious. As well it might be directed at a wounded soldier of the war.

The republican proposal means dishonor, world confusion and delay. It would keep us in permanent company with Germany, Turkey, Russia and Mexico. It would entail in the ultimate more real injury than the war itself.

President Wilson as our representative at the peace table entered the league in our name, in so far as the executive authority permitted. Senator Harding as the republican candidate for the presidency proposes in plain words that we remain out of it. As the democratic candidate I favor going in.

Under these conditions, as Germany was equipped in 1914, could conquer the world in a year.

Definite Plan

It is planned now to make this impossible. A definite plan has been agreed upon. The league of nations is in operation. A very important work, under its control, just completed, was participated in by the Hon. Elihu Root, secretary of state under the Roosevelt administration. At a meeting of the council of the league of nations February 11 an organizing committee of 12 of the most eminent jurists in the world was selected. The duty of this group was to devise a plan for the establishment of a permanent court of international justice, as a branch of the league. The assignment has been concluded by a unanimous action. This augurs well for world progress. The question is whether we shall or shall not join in this practical and human movement.

President Wilson, as our representative at the peace table entered the league in our name, in so far as the executive authority permitted. Senator Harding, as the republican candidate for the presidency, proposes in plain words that we remain out of it. As the democratic candidate, I favor going in.

Let us analyze Senator Harding's plan of making a German-American peace, and then calling for a "new relationship among nations," assuming for the purpose of argument only that the perfidious band that dealt with Germany would possess the power of influence to draw 29 nations away from a plan already at work, and influence them to retract every step and make a new beginning. This would entail our appointing another commission to assemble with those selected by the other powers. With the Versailles instrument discarded the whole subject of partitions and divisions of territory on new lines would be reopened. The difficulties in this regard, as any fair mind appreciates, would be greater than they were at the peace session, and we must not attempt to convince ourselves that they did not try the genius, patience and diplomacy of statesmen at that time. History will say that great as was the allied triumph in war, no less a victory was achieved at the peace table.

The republican proposal means dishonor, world confusion and delay. It would keep us in permanent company with Germany, Russia, Turkey and Mexico. It would entail, in the ultimate, more real injury than the war itself.

Soul Touched

The very soul of America was touched as never before with a fear that our liberties were to be taken away. What America did, needs no reiteration here. It is known of all men. History will acclaim it—poets will find it an inspiration throughout the ages. And yet there is not a line in the republican platform that breathes an emotion of pride, or recites our national achievement. In fact, if a man from Mars were to depend upon the republican platform or its spoken interpretation, by the candidate of that party, as his first means of information, he would not find a syllable telling him that the war had been won, and that America had saved the world. How ungenerous, how ungracious all of this is; how unfair that a mere group of leaders should so demean themselves in the name of the party of Lincoln and McKinley and Roosevelt.

The discourtesy to the president is an affair of political intrigue. History will make it odious. As well it might be directed at a wounded soldier of the war. One fell in the trench; the strength of the other was broken in the enormous labors of his office. But others were ignored—the men and women who labored at home with industry and a skill that words can not recount. What of the hands that moved the lathe by day and the needle by night?

Food Organization

What of the organizations, superbly effective, that conserved food and fed the world—that carried nourishment to the very front trench in the face of hell's fires—that nursed the wounded back to life—that buried the dead in the dark shelter of the night—that inspired business men and artisans of all parties to work in harmony? What of the millions of men and women and children of all creeds, religious and otherwise, who stood in the ranks as firm as soldiers overseas, undivided by things they once quarreled about? What of the government itself—confirming the faith of our fathers as sufficient to meet the storms of time? Why the sneer at labor with the veiled charge that it was a mere slacker? The spectacle sufficient to convince any unprejudiced man that the republican leaders who have taken charge of their party and nominated its candidate, are no more possessed of the spirit of the hour than they were in 1912 when they precipitated a revolution within the rank and file of a great organization. If further proof were needed, the action of the present congress supplies it.

No Constructive Law

Not a constructive law can be cited. Money and time were wasted in seeking to make a military triumph an odious chapter in history—and yet it is not significant that after two years of sleuthful inquiry, there was nothing in that vast enterprise, carrying billions of dollars in expense, upon which they could base even a whisper of dishonesty?

The Mexican situation, trying to our patience for years, begins to show signs of improvement. Not the least of the things that have contributed to it, is a realization by the people of that country, that we have neither the lust for their domain, nor disposition to disturb their sovereign rights. Peace smiles upon the border and incentive to individual effort seems to be making a national aspiration.

Many elements have made our republic enduring; not the least of which is a sustained gratitude. The richest traditions of our land are woven from historic threads that tell the bravery of our soldiers in every war. They make the first impression of history upon the minds of our children and bind the hearts of generations together. Never in all time will the performance of our soldiers in the lats war be suppressed. From farm, forest and factory, they gathered together in the training camps—from countryside and city—men whose hands were calloused by labor, others whose shoulders showed the stoop of official task—the blood of many nations flowing in their veins—and the same impulse ran from the front trench in Europe back to the first day in training.

War Breaks Plans

We must not forget that war breaks into the plans of young men, and their first chart of life is in a sense more important than any calculation later on. In college and shop—in every calling, they were building the base for their careers. Thousands of them who by the circumstance of injury or the disturbance of domestic conditions which war always brings, were compelled to change their whole course of life. We owe a debt to those who died, and to those the honored dead left dependent. We owe a debt to the wounded; but we must realize that considerable compensation is due to those also who lost much by the break in their material hopes and aspirations. The genius of the nation's mind and the sympathy of its heart, must inspire intensive thoughtful effort, to assist those who saved our all. I feel deeply that the rehabilitation of the disabled soldiers of the recent war is one of the most vital issues before the people and I, as a candidate, pledge myself and my party to "those young Americans to do all in my power to secure for them without necessary delay, the immediate training which is so necessary to fit them to compete in their struggle to overcome that physical handicap incurred while in the service of their government. I believe also that the federal board of vocational rehabilitation as far as possible should employ disabled soldiers themselves to supervise the rehabilitation of disabled soldiers, because of their known sympathy and understanding."

Disabled Soldiers

The board itself and all agencies under it should be burdened with the care of securing for the disabled soldier who has finished his training, adequate employment. These men will inspire future generations no less than they have themselves been inspired by the heroes of the past. No greater force for patriotic effort was found when we were drawn into the late conflict than the example and activity of our veterans of previous wars. Under the colors they loved, gathered the soldiers of the past, bringing quickly to their support the new army of the republic. Response in the Southland by veterans who wore the gray inspired the youth with a zeal which aided greatly in the quick mobilization of our forces.

The women of America, in emotion and constructive service, measured up during the war to every requirement, and emergency exacted much of them. Their initiative, their enthusiasm and their sustained industry, which carried many of them to the heavy burdens of toil, form an undying page in the annals of the time, while the touch of the mother's heart in camp and hospital, gave a sacred color to the tragic picture that feeble words should not even attempt to portray. They demonstrated not only willingness but capacity. They helped win the war, and they are entitled to a voice in the readjustment now at hand. Their intuition, their sense of the humanitarian in government, their unquestioned progressive spirit will be helpful in problems that require public judgment.

New Morning

We want the dawn and the dews of a new morning. We want happiness in the land, the feeling that the square deal among men and between men and government is not being interfered with by a purchased preference. We want a change from the old world of yesterday where international intrigue made the people mere pawns in the chessboard of war. We want a change from the old industrial world where the man who toiled was assured "a full dinner pail" as his only lot and portion. But how are we to make the change? Which way shall we go? We stand at the forks of the road and must choose which to follow. One leads to a higher citizenship, a freer expression of the individual and a fuller life for all. The other leads to re action, the rule of the few over the many and restriction of the average man's chances to grow upward. Cunning devices backed by unlimited prodigal expenditures will be used to confuse and to lure. But I have an abiding faith that the pitfalls will be avoided and the right road chosen. The leaders opposed to democracy promise to put the country "back to normal." This can only mean the so-called normal of former reactionary administrations, the outstanding feature of which was a pitance for farm produce and a small wage for a long day of labor. My vision does not turn backward to the "normal" desire by the senatorial oligarchy, but to a future in which all shall have a normal opportunity to cultivate a higher stature amidst better environment than that of the past. Our view is toward the sunrise of tomorrow with its progress and its eternal promise of better things. The opposition stands in the skyline of the setting sun, looking backward to the old days of reaction.

I accept the nomination of our party, obedient to the divine sovereign of all peoples, and hopeful that by trust in Him the way will be shown for helpful service.

J. N. LUCE DEAD

The many friends of Joseph Nathaniel Luce were saddened to hear of his death, which took place at the home of his daughter at Walkers Creek July 30. For several years he has been very feeble, but the last few weeks his sufferings had been very great, yet the true soldier he was, he bore them so patiently. He was 94 years, 9 months and 27 days old, was a native born Texan and an old time settler of this county, and was loved and respected by all who knew him. He was born in Crockett District, Cherokee county, near Alto, October 3, 1825. When only two years of age his mother died and he was left in his father's care. At the age of thirteen years he gave his heart to God and united with the Methodist church of which he has since been a devoted member. In 1848 he was married to Miss Virginia Middleton. This union was blessed with 8 children, 3 having passed to the great beyond. In 1862 he answered the call of his country and remained in the army till the close of the war. He was in Wall's Legion Co. F., was wounded on Banks raid at Marksville, Louisiana. After the surrender of Vicksburg, he walked from Meridian, Mississippi to Palestine, Texas, and was 57 days on the road.

On December 15, 1892 his dear wife passed away.

He leaves to mourn his loss 2 daughters, 3 sons, 28 grand-children and 2 great-grand-children.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Ira F. Key Friday afternoon at 5:30 at Walkers Creek cemetery.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, is taken internally and acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. One Hundred Dollars reward is offered for any case that Hall's Catarrh Medicine fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists, 75c. How Could She Tell?

One of the girl ushers in a Flat-bush theater had a problem offered her the other evening. She was showing two women their seats.

"Is the show this evening fit for church women to see?" asked one of the pillars of a Flatbush congregation.

"I—I don't know," responded the girl. Then she brightened. "You see," she said, "I don't have no time to go to church."—New York Mail.

Grumbling Unfashionable.

One of the results of these strenuous times in which we are living is that grumbling is going out of fashion. People are ashamed to fret about trifles, when they see how bravely others are making great sacrifices and bearing great troubles. It is to be hoped that there will be less grumbling this year than ever before in America since the landing of the pilgrims, and that the fashion will never return.—Girl's Companion.

DODSON WOULD STOP SALE OF CALOMEL

Says Calomel is Mercury and Acts Like Dynamite on Your Liver.

Dodson is making a hard fight against calomel in the South. Every druggist has noticed a great falling off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason, Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tone is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggist. Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist. A large bottle costs but a few cents, and if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.

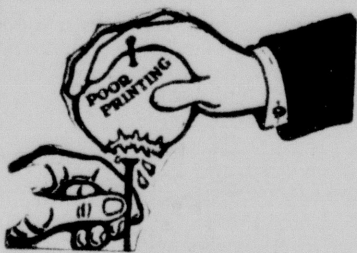

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine, no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work! Take Dodson's Liver Tone instead and feel fine, full of vigor and ambition.

The many friends of Rev. Wm. E. Copeland, of Rockdale, and beloved pastor of the Presbyterian there, will be grieved to learn of his serious illness. A trained nurse is with him and all being done for his comfort and restoration.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Hair that loses its color and lustre or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

Former Convict Thanks Hobby For Pardon; Intercedes for Two Aged Men Now In Pen

Austin, Aug. 6.—Desiring to personally thank Governor Hobby and the Board of Pardons for granting him a full pardon, "Uncle" Billie Edwards who was recently given his freedom after having served ten years of a thirty-five year sentence, came to Austin, shook hands with the chief executive and each member of the board. It was nearly a month ago that "Uncle" Billie was liberated. Since then he has been on his farm in Callahan County. By the discovery of oil on his 320 acre tract he is reputed to be almost a millionaire.

It was on his seventieth birthday that "Uncle" Billie was granted his freedom.

The pardon granted by Governor Hobby was not the first "Uncle" Billie Edwards had received, the others having come from Governors Colquitt and Ferguson. They were refused, because the man insisted he had "not yet atoned for the crime."

It was not until recently that "Uncle" Billie would consent to listen to the subject of a pardon. He finally admitted that his conscience had decided that he had paid the penalty and he was ready to return home and begin life anew "Uncle" Billie, while here, interceded with the board in behalf of two aged convicts who have served fourteen years.

The wear and tear on the old pill when Babe Ruth lands on it for a home run almost every time he comes to bat must be something awful," says H. W. Hefley, local Goodyear Service Station Dealer. "But just think of the wear and tear on demon Babe's bat!

"Ruth's bulk, plus the hefty swing of his mighty pair of arms, plus the impact with the whizzing at him with Walter Johnson speed, surely is mighty tough on the ball, and incidentally upon the pitcher. But it's only the best players, the best balls and the best bats that can produce such a home-run record.

"Even at that the force of impact when Babe's bat connects with the ball, isn't anything to the impact to which a tire is subjected when it hits a rut or rock on a rough road. Therefore, tubes and casings must be of better stuff than baseballs and bats to withstand the constant strain of frequent impacts. Babe could pound an inflated Goodyear Clincher tire a hundred times a day and never phaze it, but if he would pound out a hundred home runs a day there would be a hundred dents in his big war slab and a hundred lopsided baseballs.

"I claim Babe could pound a Goodyear tire a hundred times a day and never phaze it because Goodyear Clincher tires are built to withstand road impact and the strain of heavy shocks. Owners of light cars in America—and there are over four and a half million of them—appreciate that fact for most of them today are traveling on Goodyear Clincher tires and Heavy Tourist Tubes.

"Baseballs soared in price after the war. And they soar every time Babe lands on 'em. But not so with Goodyear tires. They're nearer their pre-war price than any other article on the American market today—and this in spite of the fact that quality has been increased since then, and greater durability has been made possible. They're as faithful as the canine pet who stands guard over his master's grave for they stick until the last with a perfect score until they actually fall to pieces."

THE FARMERS AROUSED

The action of the cotton farmers of Milam County in protesting what they characterize as confiscatory prices
for their cotton seed may well elicit
the active approval of every business man and citizen in the county and elsewhere, who, though, not in the cotton producing class but vitally interested in the stability and prosperity of this the greatest of all American industries.

Resolutions passed by the farmers in mass meeting assembled provide that all farmers of the county shall unite in an effort to command better prices for their cotton seed; that no
cotton seed will be sold prior to September 1 for less than $50 per ton;
that no cotton seed shall be sold after that date for less than $60 per ton;
that all Texas and the cotton growing states unite upon this common ground
of action to preserve the best interests of the farmer and to command a legitimate profit upon the products of his toil.

Some startling facts were brought out in connection with the open hearing conducted by the farmers who have laid their plans for a permanent organization in the county.

price being paid for cotton seed at this time.

This is in effect confiscation.

It is a distressing situation to say
the least of it, that a product enjoying so wide a demand throughout the civilized world as a food commodity should command no more in its raw state than is being offered at this time. The situation is more appalling when we consider that the cost of the finished product has not diminished in price; that the various by-products
continue to be stable in market value commanding in some instances fabulous war time prices.

The farmers are asked to sell their products at less than the cost of production.

If the manufacturers, the jobbers
and the retailers make no corresponding reduction or concessions in the finished product, the position of the farmers is well taken and quite unassailable.

The situation only brings to mind
the necessity for organization among the farmers. The farmer must adopt business methods; must assert his right to participate in the councils
that set the price upon his product;
must so fortify himself as to be able to meet the character of commercial combination that are arrayed, not against the farmer, but collectively
to make the most of every opportunity to enhance their own profits upon his product. This in effect has proven financially disastrous to the farmers.

AN EX-SOLDIER'S REASONS FOR VOTING AGAINST JOE BAILEY

As one of the returned soldiers I am compelled to speak against him
now for he utterly failed to use his great influence to support us while we were in France facing the arch enemy of our country. When called upon to make a four-minute talk in the interest of the Liberty Bond sale
he refused to speak and gave as his reason that he could not advise his friends to buy any bonds that he knew would sell at a discount. Suppose everybody had adopted such a rule of patriotism what would have become of us who were in the front lines? We would have starved to death or would have been cut to pieces by the Kaiser's armies. Our great victory in the war was not due to any encouragement from Mr. Bailey.
Of course he may have done as many Liberty Bonds but as you remember at that time public sentiment was a very strong factor in inducing many pro-German sympathizers to buy bonds. If I had obstructed, by my silence, the prosecution of the war
when my country was in great danger
I certainly would not have had the gall
to come out so soon after the victory was won and ask red blooded true Americans to honor me with a high office. Search the country over and I defy any one to show me a slacker
or German sympathizer who is not at heart for Bailey. I can't see why
any good men are willing to line

themselves up with the enemies of our country when it is so plain.

My son and I both volunteered before the draft law was passed and when the Armistice was signed we were both on the fighting line in France and I am proud to say we bought Liberty Bonds without considering how much we might lose.
Now won't you let me protest the election of this man Bailey who gave us
no support or encouragement but as soon as he would dare brave the sentiment of the public began to tear down and destroy the ideals for which we fought. Shall our dead comrades have died in vain? God forbid. Never shall I believe that the good people of Texas will allow themselves to be deceived and led off in sufficient numbers to elect Joe Bailey, the arch enemy of all we hold dear, to the great office of Governor of Texas.

Ex-Major M. C. 141st Inf.

WATER WORKS MAN GIVES OUT FACTS

"I have been trying for years to get something that would relieve me of my troubles and have found it at last in Tanlac," said Alfred Jolly, of 3291 Quitman street, Denver, Colo., and an employee of the water works department of that city.

"For a long time," he continued, "my stomach was in such an awful fix that I could eat hardly a thing without being in misery afterwards. Even the lightest foods would bloat me up with gas and I was constantly belching up sour, undigested food that at times would almost choke me, and often I would get so dizzy and light headed that I would almost fall down, and I would get so nervous that it was almost impossible for me to rest at night. I suffered agony wretched condition that I was hardly fit for a thing.

"After trying nearly everything I could hear of I took Tanlac, and it sure hit the spot and has made a different man of me. My appetite is splendid, my nerves steady, I sleep like a log at night, have gained eight pounds and am in better shape than I have been in years."

"Tanlac is sold in Cameron by New Cameron Drug Co., in Rockdale by Baldrige Bros., in Milano by E. C. Smith and in Burlington by the New Drug Store."

Republicans for Bailey

Bailey's denunciation of Woodrow Wilson and of the platforms and achievements of the Democratic party during the last seven years has unfailingly endeared him to the Republicans. No leader in the Republican ranks could have furnished his party more acceptable aid and comfort than Bailey has, by his persistent efforts to discredit the Democratic party. And his labors have borne him fruit in his race for Governor, as shown by the fact that the Republicans are being advised by their leaders to go into the Democratic primaries and vote for Bailey.

The Texas Republic is a newspaper published in San Antonio, and is recognized as the official organ of the Republican party in Texas. A recent editorial in this Republican organ contains the following:

"The Republic is unalterably of the opinion that the Republicans cannot do a greater service to their State than to help elect Bailey. They can do this without any greater sacrifice of party fealty than is common in every election. Every two years a majority of Texas Republicans vote for one or more Democratic candidates; and never can they be more justified in such action in voting for Bailey. * * * Therefore the sensible, the patriotic thing to do, is to elect Bailey Governor of Texas. And if the Republicans assist in doing this they can claim a share of the credit for that election, and be entitled to recognition in State affairs—something they have not been entitled to in more than half a century. Bailey will make Texas a good governor, and the Republic will willingly give its influence to secure his election."

The Phantom Issue

For weeks J. W. Bailey has espoused the open shop, and has assumed that "the open shop or the closed shop" is the paramount issue in the race for Governor. However, he has not explained, nor any one else understood, how this phantom of his is an issue. Though repeatedly importuned to do so, he has failed to suggest what course he would recommend as relating to the open and closed shop. He has conspicuously failed to propose the enactment or the repeal or the modification of any law affecting in the remotest degree the status of the open shop or the closed shop. He has signally failed to point out an evil for which he suggests a remedy. Hence this hobby of his had come to be generally accepted as one of those purely fictitious issues—a bit of genuine sophistry—presented by the expert demagogue for the sole purpose of getting votes.

About the most irresistible argument yet offered that this phantom of Bailey's is an issue in Texas was advanced at Waxahachie on August 7, by Judge Willim Poindexter. With unequalled marshalling of facts and employment of rare logic this exponent of Bailey philosophy eloquently elucidated the open shop as an issue in Texas politics, in the following forceful and effulgent paragraph, to-wit:

"Look at conditions in Denver today. Men shot down and thousands of dollars worth of property destroyed. I'm against it, my friends. How do you stand?"

Just how lawlessness in Colorado presents "the open shop or the closed shop" as an issue in the race for Governor in Texas may not be very clear to the ordinary mind, since Thomason, Looney and Neff, from the beginning of the campaign, have condemned, as every law-abiding American condemns violence on the part of either labor, or capital. But perhaps it is only those of the Bailey school who are expected to master Judge Poindexter's logic sufficiently to see clearly that the paragraph above quoted conclusively that "the open shop or the closed shop" is the paramount issue in Texas Democracy.

Judge Poindexter either did not know or could not condescend to consider that eight months ago, and six months before Bailey thought of espousing the open shop, in the same city of Waxahachie, Pat Neff, in the opening speech of the campaign, declared:

"No organization of men, be they miners, bankers or churchmen, should ever march forth beneath a red flag and with a stick of dynamite enforce by destructive power, its demands. The apostles of violence of both labor and capital should be forever silenced. * * * Broad as is this republic, there is beneath its flag no room for corporate power that would oppress labor or labor that would wantonly destroy corporate property."

No one except Bailey and his apostles can persuade himself that there is any issue between Bailey and Neff on "the open shop or the closed shop." No proposition more absurd, no phantom issue more false and fictitious was ever ejected into a campaign.

BAILEY GAINS IN OFFICIAL COUNT

IS NOW LEADING NEFF BY 2,522 VOTES—MISS BLANTON HAS A SUGGESTION.

Dallas, Tex., Aug. 9.—Still lacking returns from five counties, the democratic state executive committee met today and adopted the partial count as official, thus giving Joseph W. Bailey a lead of 2,522 votes over his nearest rival for the gubernatorial nomination at the July primary, Pat M. Neff of Waco. The date for the run-off was fixed as Aug. 28.

The committee sent a telegram to the Tennessee state legislature, which met in special session today, urging ratification of the federal woman suffrage amendment, so that women may vote in the general election in November. There was only one dissenting vote on the resolution to send the message to Tennessee, that of Scott Fulton of Van Alstyne.

A resolution was adopted pointing out that the accredited organ of the Texas republicans had endorsed Mr. Bailey for governor and warning election judges to permit no persons but known democrats to vote Aug. 28.

The resolution instructed the committee to warn the election officials of "an attempt to debauch our primary."

A committee was appointed to co-operate with the Fort Worth reception committee in preparing for the democratic state convention Sept. 7.

Miss Annie Webb Blanton, state superintendent of education, took the floor and charged that her name was not on the ballot in Taylor county and that names of various candidates who had not paid the assessments for the election cost were permitted to go on the ballot. She suggested that chairmen who had not sent in returns be prosecuted.

Judge John Watson left Thursday for Dallas, where he will sit as Judge of the 44th District Court a couple of weeks to relieve Judge E. B. Muse for a vacation.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

Its Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's Sage Sulphur Compound" now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.

Hot weather is hard on teething babies. They suffer the combined misery of heat, pain and stomach disorder. McGee's Baby Elixir helps the little sufferer through the trying period by correcting the stomach and bowels. Price, 35c and 60c. Sold by Pace-Marshall Drug Co.

OAKDALE NEWS

By Mrs. S. Hause

Oakdale, Aug. 9th.—Rats, Rats, Rats. Last Thursday Mr. O'Neal got some men to help him raise his barn, and they killed 125 rats, and they all said they had not done a good day's work. Mrs. O'Neal kept losing her little chickens all the year.

The farmers of this and Prospect met last Wednesday to price their cotton seed, but they did not do that. There is a few of them that are to go to Cameron on the 9th—that is today. We hope that they will come to some conclusion, and raise the price of seed.

Mr. Colas Garner of Cameron came out and spent the week end with his mother.

Friday we got the rain that the farmers had been wishing for. It started early that morning and rained most all day. Saturday evening late we had another little shower.

Mrs. J. H. Thompson's mother, near Milano, gave her a birthday dinner Sunday, and had her brother, Roy Arledge of Houston. For the last several weeks he has been staying in Cameron, and went there this morning, and his nephew, Ray Thompson, was with him going to Cameron.

This morning Mr. O'Neal took four men to Cameron to the Cotton Seed Convention.

Our young men are still attending the ten days' meeting at Liberty.

Little Miss Ola May O'Neal of Prospect was to see the Hightman girls in Oakdale Sunday afternoon.

Mr. G. W. Batey was attending to business Saturday in Milano.

Sid Hause was in Milano to sell some eggs.

Mr. Theo Ashenbeck was in Cameron Monday.

Miss Rutherford of West Texas is visiting her sister, Mrs. Akin at Pike's Peak.

People have been picking cotton in and around Milano.

Mr. Bruce West and wife and Miss Minnie West, with Mr. and Mrs. Kleypas of Burlington, spent Sunday with the M. J. Fortner family at Pike's Peak.

Mr. W. O. Fisher returned Monday from Dallas where he had been attending the state convention of the Socialist party. He went as a delegate and said they put out a full ticket for the general election.

Miss Ada Belt has returned home for a while from Waco where she has been working.

Mr. John Ford and grandson, John Owens, has gone to Tennessee to visit Mr. Ford's sisters he has not seen for about 30 years. They expect to have a very nice trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gunnels of Liberty, have returned home from Temple. Mrs. M. A. Jones, Mrs. Gunnel's mother, returned with them for a short stay.

Henry Bullock of Liberty has been very sick with typhoid fever at Breckenridge. His mother went and spent three weeks with him.

We have Mr. Dockey Brennan carrying our mail while Mr. Hooker rests for fifteen days.

Mr. J. K. Miller and son, Martin of Liberty, left last Tuesday to visit at Rogers, Hewitt and Gatesville.

Mrs. F. A. Hildebrandt of Liberty is visiting her sister, Mrs. Marus Reese, at Marlin.

Corporal Albert Olinger, who is at Fort Sam Houston, will be relieved this week and will come home to his mother in the Pin Oak community.

Mrs. Esther Gilbreth and two children of Navasota have been with her mother, Mrs. Joe Ed Beavers this past week. She will remain a few days longer to see her brother who will arrive from California, whom she has not seen for several years.

Announcements have been received from Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Reeder announcing the engagement of their daughter, Lucille, to Mr. Raymond Rader of San Antonio. Mr. and Mrs. Reeder and family were long time residents of this place, having moved from here to San Antonio only a few years ago. Miss Lucille has a host of friends here who will be interested to learn of her approaching marriage, which will be solemnized the eighteenth of this month.

GERMAN SETTLEMENTS FOR BAILEY

The following news item from Gainesville appeared in the Fort Worth Record under date of August 7th.

"Muenster and Lindsay are two large boxes, or voting precincts, in Cooke County. These towns and precincts are German-American settlements. Administration Democrats have made an interesting discovery. Muenster and Lindsay returned majorities for Hughes over Wilson in the November election in 1916. Thomas carried Cooke county over Bailey by more than 500 plurality in July primary, notwithstanding that Muenster and Lindsay rolled up heavy majorities for Bailey. This is the vote of the two precincts:

Muenster—Bailey 106, Thomason 8. Lindsay—Bailey 68, Thomason 1.

"Muenster and Lindsay are almost unanimously wet. Muenster and Lindsay are almost unanimously of Teutonic origin and temperament. According to the files of Cooke county newspapers of 1916 these two boxes repudiated Wilson, the Democratic nominee for President, and voted for Hughes, the Republican nominee."

Gainesville, Cooke County, Texas, is Bailey's alleged home. He has often boasted of his united support in Old Cooke County. In March of this year Mr. Thomason proposed to Mr. Bailey that they submit their candidacies to the voters of Cooke County, the one carrying the county to continue in the race, the other to withdraw. In response to this, Mr. Bailey first stated that he would not hold any office except with the endorsement and support of his home people. Later, however, (and perhaps after receiving a tip from his friends) he declined Mr. Thomason's proposition. In the July primaries he failed to carry Cooke County, he failed to carry the city of Gainesville and he failed to carry the city ward in which he claims to reside.

From the above quoted item, however, it is apparent that Mr. Bailey's war record is perfectly satisfactory to those Germans who are displeased with the policies of Woodrow Wilson.

AMERICAN PARTY PUTS OUT MILANO CANDIDATE

John W. Hairston of Milano is a candidate for Justice of the Peace of Precinct No. 3 on the American Party ticket in the general November election. Also A. J. Gunnels of Liberty is a candidate for Constable on the same ticket. These nominations were made at the county convention of this party at Cameron last Saturday. Various other county candidates were selected at this convention and their names will appear on the American ticket at the general election. This means that our present Democratic nominees will have opponents and a split vote of the people on November 2nd. The American Party supporters remained out of the Democratic primary to a considerable extent, but whether they can defeat the Democratic nominees remains to be seen.—Milano Gazette.

TYPICAL BAILEY CONSISTENCY

Since the July Primaries Bailey and the leaders in his cause are making fervent appeals to those who supported Thomason and Looney in the first primary to vote for Bailey in the run-off. These appeals appear, not only in the large dailies but in our county weekly papers.

The consistency of such appeals is typical of Baileyism. Looney, Thomason and Neff, for months have urged the Democratic public, regardless of their personal political fortunes, to place the stamp of disapproval on Bailey and Baileyism, calling attention to Bailey's attitude toward the Democratic party and to his war record. Prior to the first primary the contest among the supporters of Neff, Looney and Thomason was a mere matter of personal preference as to who should be selected as the standard bearer to lead the fight against Bailey as the common enemy to the Democratic party. Since the first primary Mr. Thomason and Mr. Looney have both publicly announced their unqualified support of Mr. Neff in the run-off and their determined opposition to Mr. Bailey. In spite of these publicly known conditions Bailey and his boosters are appealing to the friends of Mr. Thomason and Mr. Looney; appealing to Democratic men and women who have stood loyal to the party and endorsed Woodrow Wilson and the splendid achievements of his two administrations, to support the candidacy of a man who has repudiated that matchless Democrat and who, for years, has assailed Democratic platforms, denounced Democratic candidates and discredited Democratic administrations; appealing to men and women who stood by the Stars and Stripes during the terrible war, so recently ended and who freely spent their money and their energy to furnish our boys in the trenches with comfort and equipment, to accept the leadership of a man who opposed our country's taking a stand for freedom and the right, who did not raise his voice during the war in support of the American soldier as he faced the Huns and fought for human liberty and who could not even afford to ask his friends to buy Liberty Bonds lest they might go below par and sell at a discount.

To the friends of Mr. Thomason and Mr. Looney such appeals are weak in consistency, and such consistency is weak in its appeals.

Military and Economic Aid For Poland Against the Reds

Hythe, England, Aug. 8.—Great Britain and France are convinced that the bolshevik intend to capture Warsaw and set up a soviet government in Poland.

This was learned from an official source tonight following an announcement at the conference between Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain and Premier Millerand of France, held today to discuss the Polish situation, that the conference would continue tomorrow, when the premiers will pass upon naval, military and economic plans for saving Poland. These plans are being drawn up tonight by Marshal Foch and Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson, chief of the British imperial staff.

These were outstanding developments of the day and followed an official announcement that the soviet government had definitely refused a ten days' truce, requested by Lloyd George, as a result of Friday's meeting with the Russian mission headed by M. Kamenoff and M. Krassin.

No Official Declaration.

While there has been no talk of officially declaring war on Russia, the allies have decided to give Poland all possible military, naval and economic assistance without delay.

The premiers received two notes from Moscow today in answer to Mr. Lloyd George's request for a truce. Tonight they sent another note to the soviet and also advised Poland to seek a truce direct from the bolsheviks who indicated in their refusal of the truce that if the request came direct from the Poles it might have a better chance of being granted. One of the notes received from the bolsheviks today said a meeting of the Poles and Russians had been called for Minsk next Wednesday and that the bolsheviks preferred to make their own arrangements with the Poles.

To Resume Blockade

It was reliably reported tonight

that the blockade of Russia would be reimposed immediately.

Mr. Lloyd George has deferred his statement in the house of commons tomorrow until Tuesday. Mr. Millerand and his party will not return to France until Monday afternoon.

The French are urging the establishment of a defensive line in Poland, either before Warsaw immediately or behind the capital, if it is too late now for the former. M. Millerand also proposed that the French and British troops in the plebiscite areas be used for this line, chiefly for moral support, and that Roumania and Czechoslovakia also be asked to send troops.

Warning to Germany

At the close of the conference M. Millerand presented for the approval of the British delegates a declaration he had drafted. The substance of this constituted a warning to Germany that if an attempt is made in any way to co-operate with the bolsheviks, an army of the allies will occupy the Ruhr region and other points in German territory.

Mr. Lloyd George has not yet indicated his approval of the declaration, but French circles believe he will agree to it, and that the warning will be conveyed to Germany either directly or by an allied declaration.

True State of Affairs

Further details of the meeting in London Friday between the bolshevik representatives and Mr. Lloyd George were learned tonight by the Associated Press. Refusal of the soviet government to accept terms of a truce is taken in conference circles here as meaning that Kamenoff and Krassin have but minor influence with Premier Lenine and War Minister Trotsky.

At the conference Mr. Lloyd George offered every guarantee that the truce would not be used as a means for reinforcing the military position of the Poles. The British premier went so far as to agree to have bolshevik officers behind Polish lines to see that the terms of the truce were rigidly enforced. The premier answered all the Russians' objections and Kamenoff sent the plan to Moscow by wireless with a recommendation that it be adopted.

In British and French circles tonight it is admitted that the situation created by the bolshevik refusal of a truce has brought about a crisis only second in gravity to that which confronted the allies in 1914.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

SIXTEEN YEARS EXPERIENCE

For sixteen years, a corps of metallurgists have been studying and constantly perfecting the steel that goes into every part of the Ford car and the Ford One Ton Truck. Each separate part has been studied to learn the type of steel best fitted for it. Parts receiving constant surface-wear are made of hard, flint-like metal; parts subjected to great vibration or resilience are made of softer, springy steel. Every part is made according to its use—that is, every Genuine Ford part is.

But there are also counterfeit "Ford" parts. These imitations are made by concerns in no way connected with the Ford Motor Company and retailed as side-lines by mail-order houses, down-town stores, and many garages. The unsuspecting customer accepts them because they are called "Ford" parts. To make sure of getting the genuine Ford-made parts, buy them only from Authorized Ford dealers. VILLA WITH ESCORT OF 900 MEN IS ON WAY TO SAN PEDRO

TERMS OF UNCONDITIONAL CAPTIVITY GIVES FORMER BANDIT HUGE ESTATE

San Pedro, Coahuila, Mexico, via Laredo Junction, Aug. 7.—Under the terms of his "unconditional" surrender Francisco Villa, Mexican bandit leader, will get a huge estate at Canutillo, Durango, where he will be guarded for the remainder of his lifetime by 50 of trusted followers, who will be paid by the government, it was learned here on Friday.

Villa's surrender will cost the Mexican government $2,000,000 gold, according to estimates.

Villa, with 900 officers and men, is en route over the desert to San Pedro for Cuatro for final arrangements for his surrender and disarming of his force. He will reach here Monday and then march to Gomez Palacio, where his men will be disarmed and receive a year's pay prior to being given farms where the men themselves designate, throughout Mexico. Part of them will be in the northern tier of states.

Villa Spies

Villa has spies in every Mexican town and hamlet and these also are en route to Gomez Palacio to share in the surrender terms.

The personal guard of 50 men Villa will select, it is presumed, from among his most trusted officers, thus keeping a nucleus for another revolutionary army if he becomes dissatisfied.

The guard will be paid according to the rank the various officers held under Villa, and can be dispatched, according to the official agreement General Eugenio Martinez made public here.

Word of Honor

According to the agreement signed on July 28, Villa gave his "word of honor" never to fight against the constitutional government or against Mexico, and Martinez gave his word of honor that the conditions agreed on would be complied with strictly.

The agreement creates in Mexico a situation paralleling that resulting in the United States from the Indian settlements.

Villa in surrender is as independent as ever. Federal government agents for days following his assenting to the surrender agreement were unadvised as to his whereabouts. That gave rise to many rumors that the surrender had not yet occurred and that Villa had tricked the government.

Several years ago I was right down and out with my back, and was in such a condition that I could hardly do a thing. My back ached all the time and my kidneys were irregular and the secretions contained sediment, that looked like brick dust and the passages were very painful. I tried several kinds of kidney medicine but the only kind that did me any good was Doan's Kidney Pills. They cured me of the attack. I sure am proud to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills for they are just what is claimed for them."

"Waste of gasoline by all the small cars in the United States is estimated at one-half gallon a day or approximately 838,587,500 gallons a year," declares H. W. Hefley, local Goodyear dealer.

"This waste is due to idling motors, racing motors when starting, not having carburetors properly adjusted and neglecting to coast up to stops and on down grades.

"It would be advisable for owners of these cars to learn to conserve not only in gasoline but in the use of tires. When one stops to consider that there are nearly 4,600,000 small cars in America that require 6,000,000 tires to keep them in operation, it is easy to visualize how great a saving could be brought about by small economies.

"With a few repairs, tires that are frequently thrown away can be made to give several thousand extra miles. Frequent inspections insure maximum mileage and the exercise of cars along this line adds considerable to the life of the tire.

"This is a clincher tire year. More clincher tires will be sold than any other kind. And drivers of cars using clincher tires will receive valuable hints on tire conservation by calling at Goodyear Service Stations.

How Democrats of Other States Regard Bailey

A few weeks ago Bailey suggested that he would stump the doubtful states for the national Democratic ticket. Oklahoma is a doubtful state; and a Democrat from that state writes the Dallas News as follows:

"As I lived in Texas twenty-three years, I have a warm feeling in my heart for Texas people, and I am very anxious about the election you are to have on the 28th. I am looking for J. W. Bailey to be defeated over 100,000 votes, but the more the majority the better it will be. It made me shiver to read what Bailey said about stumping the doubtful States for Governor Cox. I have wondered what he would say to the voters, and when I think of what he would say it makes me afraid that he will want to come to Oklahoma. We don't want him. If you will see how we did Ex-Governor Haskell a few years ago when he ran the United States Senate, and also what we did to Senator Gore on the 3rd of this month, you will see how we stand with the people who have Bailey principles.

GLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEYS

If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers You, Drinks Lots of Water.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity.

The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from

SAN GABRIEL GOSSIP

By Mrs. J. S. Woody

August 10th.—Mr. and Mrs. Will Jones returned to their home in Galveston Tuesday after a visit here in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Leachman of Dallas, were here last Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Camp.

Master Bill Outlaw was listed with the sick last week.

Mrs. Leonard Goss and children visited relatives in Granger last week.

Mrs. Albright of Colorado is the appreciated guest of her aunt, Mrs. M. Jocelyn of this village. This is the first meeting between aunt and niece for forty years.

Miss Lois Baird has been on the sick list.

Mr. Smith of Beaukiss is a visitor in the home of his sister, Mrs. Jones of our village.

Our community received a heavy rain Friday night and Saturday morning, the downpour falling about as heavy as we ever heard. The rain seems to have been rather general and while the tributaries of the Gabriel River in this vicinity, emptied their volume of water and soon found its way seaward, the river channel was full to overflowing throughout its source, in the late afternoon; evidence of heavy precipitation in countries further west. San Gabriel River overflowed in many places—perhaps spoiling fields of fine corn. Backwaters of the Slough that runs between San Gabriel River and the village kept back a herd of cattle owned by Harry Clark, who was driving them from a bottom pasture for safety from high water. Mr. J. M. Gilchrist was the kindly neighbor and offered enclosures for their safe-keeping through Saturday night.

Many citizens from this community were also detained by the swollen currents on their home return from Thorndale Saturday afternoon.

The village proper were out sight-seeing in the late afternoon, watching the rapid race of the turbid waters.

Young cotton is greatly benefitted by this rain, but we, who have open cotton feel no need for it at present.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Elliott motored over from Thorndale for a few minutes chat with their father, F. M. Amason Sunday.

Mr. Dee Moseley and Miss Grace Jones were among many over from Thorndale on an outing Sunday afternoon.

Elbert Fulcher went to South Texas the past week end.

Elbert Felton was a business visitor in Cameron Monday.

Scores of our people left last week for points in Western counties for the purpose of camping and fishing. Hope Camp and family, Murrell Camp Gottlebe Yeager, Miss Fay Felton and several guests of Miss Anna Mae Camp composed a party to Kingsland where they have spent the past week.

Messrs. L. Goss, Ted Adams, Tapp Daniels, Emmitt Davis, Elbert Felton

and John Woody enjoyed most of last week at Marble Falls.

Little Miss Zora Outlaw was operated on last week for tonsillitis. She was accompanied by her mother and father to Cameron, where she underwent the operation and is recovering nicely at present.

J. R. Foster of Rockdale spent Saturday night with the family of his daughter, Mrs. John Woody of this community.

Little Misses Ova Lee and Grace Middleton left Saturday for a few days' visit to relatives near Rockdale.

Joe Yeager was a visitor to Rockdale last Wednesday.

Miss Florence Jones motored to Thorndale Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Camp and Misses Fay Felton and Anna Mae Camp, also Jim Guthrie, were Odd Fellows and Rebekahs from San Gabriel I. O. O. F. and Rebekah lodges attending the County Association of Odd Fellow and Rebekah lodges meeting at Liberty Hill, Texas, last Tuesday.

The Cameron boosters reached our village in the afternoon of last Wednesday. We highly welcomed them with their good talks, music, treats, etc and enjoyed their brief stay among us.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones and little Ruby visited relatives in Beaukiss last week continuing their visit also to Austin and other places above that city.

Messrs. Jim Guthrie and son, Alvin and William Locklin were camping on the Llano part of last week.

Mrs. F. M. Amason has gone to North Texas to visit her mother.

Little Miss Inez Goff was listed with the sick a day last week.

Messrs. Vernon Fleming and Ernest Foster of Rockdale were here with J. S. Woody and family Friday Friday night.

Messrs. Buck and John Perry returned Sunday from an extended visit in North Texas.

Will Lee spent part of last week in Port Arthur.

Miss Isabelle Camp is a guest of her sister in Dallas this week.

CAMERON BUSINESS MEN VISITED MILANO WEDNESDAY

The Cameron business men and trade boosters arrived in Milano Wednesday morning at about 9:30 o'clock and remained here for a half hour. There were some 30 odd cars and trucks in the line-up and about 150 boosters. They brought a feeling of good will along and seemed to be in extra good spirits. A good band of some 20 odd instruments rendered two selections of music and helped to put a bright finish touch to the caravan. The J. B. Newton & Sons store had prepared a large number of ice cold water melons for the visitors and when they arrived found all the sliced melon they wished. Just before leaving Judge W. G. Gillis greeted the Milano people and told them they appreciated the reception that was accorded them at Milano. Then the "all-aboard" whistle blew and auto horns and whistles began making a goodbye noise and the procession turned around on Main Plaza and then went its way toward Rockdale. We have but one regret of the visit, and that is they failed to let the Milano people know they were coming and only a few citizens had heard of it.—Milano Gazette.

Is Bailey Eligible

The Texas Constitution provides that the Governor "shall have resided in this State at least five years immediately preceding his election."

Bailey does not deny that he sold his home in Cooke County, Texas, and that for some ten or twelve years he has lived with his family in Washington, having purchased a residence there. But he says he considers his home in Cooke County, Texas, because he still owns a cemetery lot in Gainesville. How do the Democrats of Cooke County, whom he would call his home people and his neighbors, consider the question of his residence? In convention assembled at Gainesville on the 31st day of July, 1920, by resolution they declared, in part, as follows:

"It is our judgment that J. W. Bailey is not a resident of Texas or eligible to hold the office of Governor, and we believe he is not resident of this town or county and has no lawful right to take part in our primaries or elections."

There's a smile in the brew;
There's the taste of the same
We drank long ago, too.

It functions just right,
For it's full of good cheer,

For it's NOT a "near beer."
It brings words to the tongue,
And a light to the eye,

STOCK ABOUT FREE FROM FEVER TICKS

Cameron, Texas, August 9.—Tick eradication work in Milam County has simmered down to the opposition. Only those who are opposed to the work, or have been so opposed, now have ticks on their premises. It is only a matter of law enforcement now in the work for this county. The cattle owner who was willing to co-operate and who has done so is practically without the pest on his premises. The following data is given as proof of the above statements:

March, 698; April 491; May, 256; June, 271; July 251.

By consulting the above table it is readily seen that the man who has had ticks this season has either co-operated and gotten free of them or he has resisted our efforts and still has his premises tick-infested. Many of the herds yet remaining infested will clean up the end of the season, and those who do not, along with those which have shown ticks since the 1st of August will be held under local quarantine, providing the county is released from general quarantine, and these will be compelled to dip their cattle next year and until the premises are tick free. There is no evasion of this as the presence of ticks brings the owner or caretaker along with those exposed to him under the provisions of the present law in force in this State. Are you co-operating, or have you ticky cattle and premises? Get your cattle and premises on the Honor Roll. Be classed as progressive and law abiding. The county is apparently in good shape to be released from general quarantine on next December first. Are you in shape to go with the majority of cattle owners or are you the laggard who will have to clean up after the others are thru with the task? It depends upon you, yourself, as those in charge of the work in this county have and are using every effort to have you go with the majority and be relieved of further necessity of doing this most urgent and profitable work.

JESSE L. SHABRAM, Veterinary Inspector, in charge Tick Eradication, Milam County, Texas.

TWO KILLED WHEN BRIDGE COLLAPSES

PARTIALLY COMPLETED STRUCTURE NEAR BARTLETT FALLS WITH LADEN TRUCK

Bartlett, Tex., Aug. 5.—Two men are dead and another is not expected to live following the collapse of the Donahoe bridge just west of town at 9:30 yesterday morning.

A truck and seven men were carried down with the structure, which was being rebuilt at the time of the accident. Tom H. Rogers of Granger contractor in charge, was instantly killed when an iron girder from the falling framework struck the top of his head. Daly Walton was pinned to the platform by timbers and iron, and died shortly after being removed. A Mexican working with them was injured internally and it is believed his injuries are serious.

The Donahoe bridge was destroyed by the Flood of April 17 and the Granger contractor was engaged in restoring it. The truck was backed onto the partially completed platform to unload timbers necessary to finish the bed of the bridge, when the structure collapsed. Four other men escaped with bruises.

ROCKDALE PUBLIC SCHOOLS WILL OPEN SEPTEMBER 13

The School Board met Saturday night and transacted routine business. The date for opening the fall term of school was fixed for September 13. The Teachers' Institute will occupy the week prior to school opening.

The High School faculty was completed by the employment of Miss Virginia Ward, of Austin, who is a graduate of State University.

The Board also elected Miss Mattie Williams of Caldwell to a position in the Intermediate Department. Also Miss Nettie Turner of this city for grade work. All subject to assignment of the superintendent.

Supt. Marshall announced the receipt of a letter from the State Supervisor of Public Schools stating that the Rockdale school had been allowed affiliation credits of two units on French. The supervisor's letter stated "Excellent work; the original composition work is particularly strong." This brings the school's total up to 17½, just where it was before we lost two units by reason of eliminating German from the course of study.—Rockdale Reporter.

CAMERON BOOSTERS WEDNESDAY RECEIVED ROYAL ENTERTAINMENT

ROCKDALE EXTENDS GENEROUS NEIGHBORLY WELCOME TO COUNTY SEAT BOOSTERS

The Cameron business men invaded Rockdale Wednesday morning on their first trade extension trip. They came some 200 strong in forty automobiles arriving from Milano about 10:30 a. m., and remaining nearly an hour as guests of this city.

The Rockdale Chamber of Commerce had made all arrangements for a suitable reception of the visitors—in fact it was a royal reception. The ladies of the city were out in force and pinned a rose on each and every one of the visitors, men like Jeff Kemp getting three or four roses. Then a bevy of beautiful Rockdale girls passed around among the crowd and each visitor was handed a plate of ice cream with spoon.

Mayor H. C. Meyer and President E. A. Camp of the Chamber of Commerce, were on hand to welcome the boosters, and Mr. Camp delivered a short address of welcome, congratulating our neighbor city on the progressiveness and boosting qualities of her citizenship and extending them a cordial welcome and a pressing invitation to come again. This was responded to by Judge W. G. Gillis, one of the most gifted speakers in Central Texas, who responded in kind. The speakers spoke from a truck on the public square. The visitors brought with them the Cameron Brass Band which rendered several splendid selections.

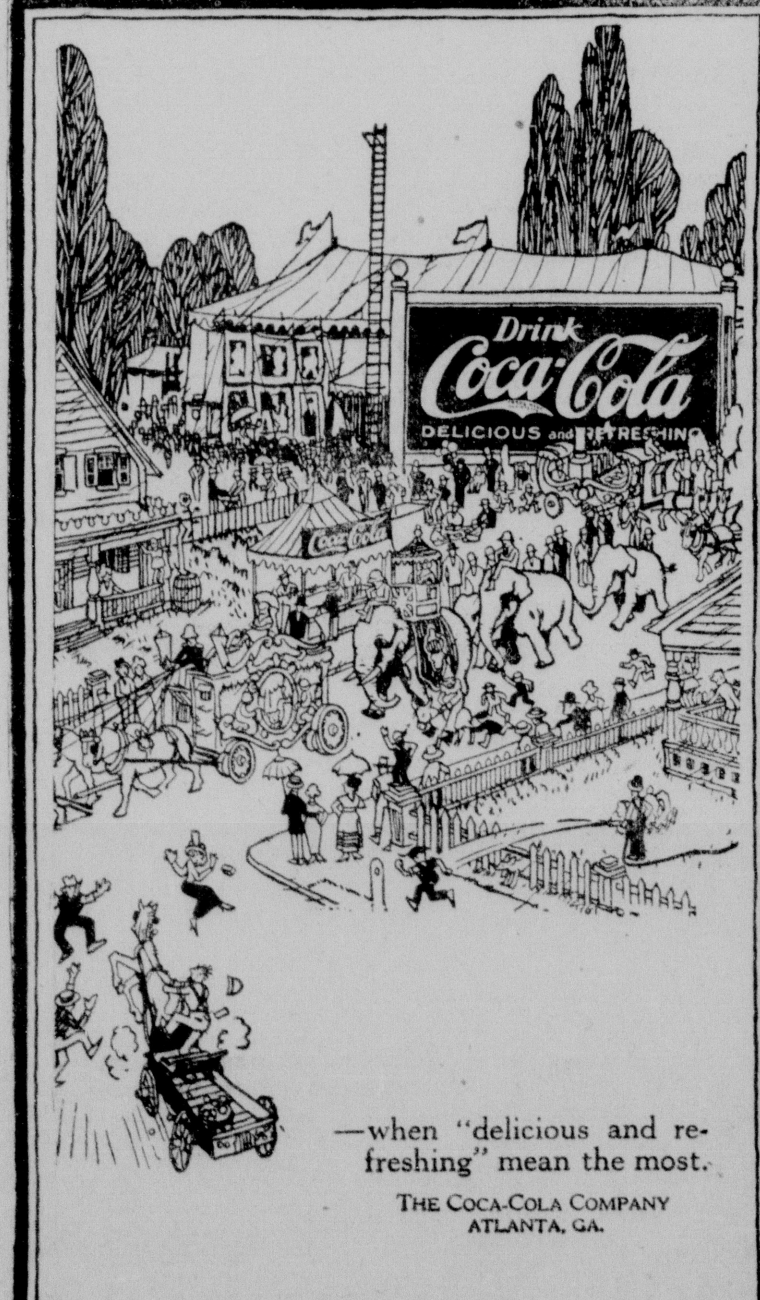

The advent of the boosters into the city was welcomed by the ringing of bells and blowing of whistles, every bell and whistle in the city being brought into service, including the water works siren. The people of Rockdale had turned out in number and the streets were lined with cars while a crowd of several hundred gathered to hear the speaking.

The boosters departed at 11:30 for their next stop at Thorndale, carrying with them an increased regard for Rockdale, and leaving behind pleasant recollections of a friendly and neighborly visit.—Rockdale Reporter.

Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 60c per bottle.

A FOOL AT 40

It is an old proverb that every man is either a fool or a physician at 40. Well, I fooled along for 40 years in the practice of pharmacy and the study of medicine and therapeutics before I discovered the wonderful prescription for Number 40 For The Blood. There is more of this wonderful prescription sold and used by the people of our home city than all other blood medicines combined. It is indicated in all depraved conditions of the system; in blood troubles, in sores, ulcers, eczema and skin diseases; in chronic rheumatism, catarrh, constipation, stomach, kidney and liver troubles. J. C. Mendenhall, Evansville, Ind., 40 years a druggist. "I suffered from 12 to 18 months with a nervous breakdown, said by physicians to be sciatic neuralgia, causing general toxic poisoning. Seeing your advertisement in the San Antonio Express, I called on Dr. A. M. Fisher, Druggist. He recommended Number 40 which I have been using for three months and I have received great benefit from it. Sleep well, good appetite, have gained several pounds, get up feeling fresh every morning. Have no pains. My nervous system has become nearly normal." Respectfully, J. L. Dupree, 1715 Common St., Houston, Texas.

NAVY RECRUITING ACTIVITIES

The War's over—but not for the Navy Recruiting service. The Navy has four separate and distinct "extras" under way, and each one of these represents a field of its own, with its own individual opportunities and possibilities of advancement, for those that take advantage of it.

The Submarine wants good men, preferably ex-Navy men and ex-Army men, but most of all trustworthy, responsible men. The pay "on the boat" is about $20.00 more than for serving afloat, and nearly all the comforts of home can be enjoyed by the personnel on the large, seagoing, ocean crossing submarines.

The Hospital Corps needs to be filled by bright lads who desire to take up the study of Pharmacy and enjoy life on large or small craft without some of the rigors which the deck force undergo. These boys graduate from the Navy School for Pharmacists and are at once given the rating of a petty officer and a responsible detail on ship-board.

Naval Reserves in all the various branches are wanted back in the regular service. The new and liberal rates of pay have brought many back to the Navy. They heard the sea calling them and they came back in the lower rating and found a royal road to advancement awaiting them.

The latest offer and to some minds the best bet of all, awaits the Gunners' Mates, Boatswains' Mates, Quartermasters, in fact literally all hands and the ship's cooks. And that "extra" is destroyer duty in foreign waters.

The Torpedo boat destroyers Brooks, Gilmer, Fox and Overton are now being fitted out at the Philadelphia-Navy Yard for immediate duty in European and near Eastern waters. There are vacancies on the destroyers for Boatswains' Mates, 1st class, Boatswains' Mates, 2nd class, Coxswains, Gunners' Mates (Ordnance), Gunners' Mates (Torpedo), Quartermasters (Signal), Quartermasters (Navigation), Seaman and Seamen 2nd class, Electricians (General), Electricians (Radio), Carpenter's Mates, Storekeepers, Machinists' Mates, Engine-men, Water Tenders, Boilermakers, Blacksmiths, Copper-smiths, Firemen, Pharmacists' Mates, Commissary stewards, Ships' Cooks, Officers' Cooks, and Stewards and Mess Attendants.

The ships will sail filled up with old timers as soon as they are manned. Probably when the news is noised abroad they won't wait long for "up anchor" and proceed in column down the Delaware for Europe and Asia.

The following enlistments were made at the local Navy Recruiting Station, 201 Binz Building, Houston, Texas, for week ending August 5, 1920.

The good roads movement has been given tremendous impetus in Northern Ontario by the recently completed 1,400 mile tour of boosters held under the auspices of the Michigan Pikes Association.

Consisting of 60 cars and trucks carrying more than 200 motor enthusiasts, this motorcade—probably the largest ever assembled—traveled roads unknown to motor cars in order to stimulate construction of a highway that will enable motorists to travel through Ontario via Windsor, Toronto, North Bay and the Soo. It is hoped ultimately to bring about completion of the northern highway in Ontario to enable tourists to motor thru the summer resort country, entering Canada either at the Soo or Windsor and travel in a circle described by going from the Soo to North Bay and Toronto.

Starting from Detroit with a total of 60 cars, including three kitchen trucks, motorized lighting plant and shower bath truck, the motorcade traveled for 15 days, meeting with an even more enthusiastic reception than on five previous trips that had resulted in boosting construction of modern roads. W. D. Edenburn, automobile editor of the Detroit News, was tour manager.

Over 90 road meetings were held on the tour, among the speakers being Hon. F. C. Biggs, minister of public works, Ontario; Hon. Albert Grigg, deputy minister of lands and forests; Dr. P. E. Doolittle, president Dominion Good Roads Association; L. E. Allen, president Good Roads Association; Horatio S. Earle, father of good roads Michigan, Frank S. Rogers, Michigan State Highway Commissioner, and Capt. W. S. Gilbreath, promoter and founder of the Dixie highway.

Among the features of the tour that attracted great attention were Ford band of 37 pieces and the Good-year truck that holds the coast-to-coast record of 14 days and which has traveled 120,000 miles since 1917.

As Dead as the Dodo

Every druggist in town—your druggist and everybody's druggist has noticed a great falling off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tone is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggist.

Take "Dodson's Liver Tone" Instead!

Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle costs but a few cents, and if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults.

Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work! Take Dodson's Liver Tone instead and feel fine, full of vigor and ambition.

NOW—before you are busy with field work—is the time to make your home, garage, dairy barn, chicken house, granary and milk house warmer, clean and sanitary.

Strong, rigid Cornell Wood Board, that takes the place of plaster, will quickly and easily accomplish all this at little expense.

"Cornell 32" for Farm Buildings

The 32-inch width—a Cornell feature—makes attractive panels for hallways, small rooms and borders and cuts very economically for outbuildings on the farm. However for large barns, etc., the 48-inch width is more desirable.

Both the 32 and 48 inch widths are guaranteed not to warp, crack, buckle or chip if directions for applying are followed. The special Cornell Triple-Sizing Process—which protects against moisture, expansion and contraction—makes this guarantee possible. Paint or calcimine can be immediately applied. The oatmeal finish—mill-primed surface (both sides) saves the cost and labor of a sizing coat.

Bailey For Governor

Senator Bailey Will Speak in Cameron

Wednesday, August 18th

At 3 O'clock P. M.

The Third, Fourth and Twenty-Second questions contained in the Questionnaire sent to candidates by the Labor Political Committee are as follows:

"No. 3. Do you stand for, and will you support the General Legislative Program of the American Federation of Labor, and are you willing to take advice and counsel and vote for the recommendations of duly accredited legislative representatives of the Texas Federation of Labor on all matters that they may seek either to have enacted into law or defeated?

NOTE: Do you understand that you cannot favor the Open Shop Square Deal Association if you are for Organized Labor because it is the antithesis of Trades Unionism?

"No. 4. Are you in favor of the Peaceful Picketing, and will you VOTE FOR LAWS FOR ITS PROTECTION? Answer:—"

No. 22. Will you favor the enactment of a law in Texas making it punishable by a fine or imprisonment, or both, for the importation of workers from one State to another, unless, full notice that a strike is on, shall always accompany any advertisement or verbal invitation to such workers to go from one State to another, or from one city to another? Answer:—"

Senator Bailey said he would answer these questions publicly, and he has done so. Below is his answer made in his Brownwood speech as reported by the Dallas News.

If labor secures a law as suggested in the twenty-second question how would the cotton crop of Texas ever be harvested?

Mr. Bailey continued in this language:

"Many union labor men in this State agree with me in this position and they will vote for me despite a systematic attempt to prevent them doing so. They know as well as I do that these new and extreme demands, by the present leaders of organized labor are alienating public sympathy from their order; and if the leaders were wise enough to take counsel would themselves see on every hand that they should desist. Then years ago you could not find a man in this State, save those rare exceptions which always prove the rule, who had anything to say against labor unions.

"The union men must know that this condition must be due to what the labor leaders have been doing. The public would not have changed its attitude toward the unions except that the unions have changed their attitude toward the public. They are forcing the public to oppose them or else acquiesce in their unreasonable demands, which is another way of saying that they have yet to go a little farther until they will convince most thoughtful men in this country that the union is a menace to domestic peace. I would save us from that situation if I could, but I know that the only way that we can do that is for the unions themselves to repudiate the leaders who began by demanding the right to run everybody's business and are now bold enough to demand the right to govern this State.

Open Shop an Issue

Following the lead of The Dallas News, Mr. Neff and his friends are everywhere declaring that the open shop is not an issue in this campaign, and they assert that I am attempting to make an issue of it simply to serve my political advantage. They have even gone so far as first to insinuate and then to declare that the now notorious red circular was printed and circulated, if not by us, at least with our connivance. If they believe what they say they are woefully ignorant of the facts.

"On the 7th of May, exactly one week after the presidential conventions, a statement was given out from the offices of the American Federation of Labor in Washington in which it was claimed that the labor unions had accomplished my defeat.

Evidence on Red Circular

"But even if we didn't have the statement of the American Federation of Labor to confirm the red circular, we would know by looking at the face of this red circular that they were issued by those acting in behalf of union labor, because every one of them carries the union label. Nobody believes that a union print shop could have been induced to issue a spurious circular which the enemies of union labor were pretending to circulate on union labor's behalf. Indeed, my countrymen, the feeling among union printers is so intense that when my friends went to a printing office to have circulars printed announcing that I would speak at San Angelo union printers refused to put the union label on the circular and told the owners of the office, so I was informed, that they would strike before they would put the union label on a circular announcing a speaking date for me."

"I hold in my hand a questionnaire issued by the nonpartisan political committee of the Dallas Central Council for submission to all candidates of all parties, and that circular deals with the open shop question with much greater length than it does with any other question. Indeed, it more than a question and is inserted after question 3 in the form of a note. Let me first read you question No. 3 and then the note under it:

Open Shop Question

Question No. 3 follows: Do you stand for and will you support the general legislative program of the American Federation of Labor, and are you willing to take advice and counsel and vote for the recommendations of duly accredited legislative representatives of the Texas Federation of Labor on all matters that they may seek either to have enacted into law or defeated?

Then the note: "Do you understand that you can not favor the Open Shop (Square Deal) Association if you are for organized labor, because it is the antithesis or trades unionism? Its purpose is not in agreement with its name and declaration because:

(a) Its assumed attitude of great concern for the unorganized workmen is but a blind to cover up its inner secret purpose and positive demand to disorganize all organized labor.

(b) That the whole open shop movement carries with it no idea of fairness or "square deal" to all workers, but utter destruction of all forms of collective bargaining and control of shops by unions.

(c) That the promoters of the open shop principle are determined that they, and they alone, shall dictate wages, hours, length of day, and that they shall decide all matters of shop rules; in other words, they propose to substitute for the workers' present plans and organizations their own plans and organizations.

(d) That the open shop movement is Nation-wide and a concrete expression of the employers of labor for the accomplishment of the stated purpose.

Why It Is Not an Issue

"In the face of this question, submitted by the nonpartisan political committee, no intelligent man can any longer doubt, and no candid man will ever again deny, that the open shop is an issue in this campaign and has been made so by the labor unions themselves. With that question submitted to every candidate, there was no way to avoid making the open shop an issue in this campaign except for every candidate to evade it or answer it to the satisfaction of labor unions.

"I answer it, not in any secret communication, because I do not believe in this secret correspondence between candidates and classes; I answered it in a public speech and my answer was that I am in favor of the open shop and against the closed shop. That answer made the issue, but responsibility for the issue is upon those that demand that every candidate shall be against the closed shop."

"My countrymen, it is not only an issue introduced into the campaign by the labor unions themselves, but it is a vital issue, and it ought to be frankly met by every man who seeks the suffrage of the people."—Dallas News, August 6, Bailey's Brownwood speech.

As to Neff's Land Plank Bailey Says:

"I've got no patience," he went on, "with this demagogic appeal to the tenant farmer promising him to take away somebody else's land and give it to him. The tenant farmers are prosperous and many farmers prefer to rent land than to own it. A merchant rents the house in which he sells goods because he figures he had better use his capital in moving his merchandise than in constructing a house and owning the land upon which his store stands. A tenant farmer rents the land upon which he grows his crop and finds it cheaper to do so than to own the high-priced land in some sections of the State, valued at several hundred dollars an acre, and paying taxes on it.

"Just as well talk about taking building lots from those who own more than one and giving them to the tenant merchants as to talk about taking land from one man and giving it to another. Just as well talk about buying a home for a mechanic in the city as for a farmer in the country.

"Self-reliance is the characteristic of a great people; dependence is the characteristic of a weak people. There never was a people who ate out of the hands of an indulgent government that didn't bite the hand that fed them when they found that hand empty (applause). Whenever the time comes that the politicians shall decide how much property a man has the right to own the end of our civilization is in sight."—Bailey's San Angelo speech.

American Party Endorses Closed Shop

The American Party in convention at Fort Worth August 10th, adopted a Plank endorsing the closed shop and recommending the extension of its principles to the farming element was unanimously adopted by the State Convention of the American party at the First Baptist Church Auditorium Tuesday afternoon.

Former Governor James E. Ferguson in his keynote speech at the morning session, expressed his allegiance to the closed shop policy.

The plank adopted by the convention reads:

We not only recognize the necessity for the closed shop for the protection of the laboring masses in industrial lines, but we recommend that the principle be extended to the farming masses so that those who make crops can get better prices for their products and pay better wages to labor that makes the crops.

Democrats Denounced.

McGregor was unanimously nominated candidate for governor and in his speech of acceptance declared for the closed shop and unionizing for the labor.

Ex-governor Ferguson predicted that the American Party would poll 175,000 votes in November. He did not say how so small a vote could win. The truth is now apparent.

McGregor and Ferguson are out for the purpose, and only for the purpose, of beating Joe Bailey, August 28th, by keeping voters out of the primary.

JOSEPH W. BAILEY TO ADDRESS DEMOCRATS OF MILAM COUNTY

Joseph Weldon Bailey, former United State Senator and now a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor of Texas, will deliver his first campaign address in Milam county Wednesday afternoon, August 18, on the court house lawn in Cameron at 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon.

Announcement that Senator Bailey would speak in Cameron was made in a telegram received here Monday afternoon from Luther Nickels in Dallas to E. A. Wallace, one of the Bailey campaign managers in Milam county.

Bailey managers in Milam county have been trying to arrange a speaking date for the former senator for the past several weeks or since the beginning of the second primary campaign. The announcement from Mr. Bailey's headquarters that he would be able to include Cameron in his speaking campaign was received here with much interest by his friends and supporters and there has been a very active effort to give the speaking date wide publicity over the county and adjoining counties.

Friends of Mr. Bailey predict that 5000 or more people will be in Cameron to hear the former senator discuss his campaign for governor. With this in mind they are preparing to accommodate the largest political gathering ever held in this county and expect a large representation from five or more counties on account of our connection as a junction city with Santa Fe, S. A. & A. P. and I. & G. N. railways.

The campaign has progressed in a spirit of interest the like of which has seldom been seen in Texas politics. The fact that Mr. Bailey was able to lead the ticket in the recent primary has increased his prestige for the nomination and the close vote by which he led Pat Neff of Waco has added to the intensity of the run-off campaign.

Little active effort was made in this county prior to the July primary in the interest of Mr. Bailey but now that the former senator is leading by more than 2500 votes his friends are fired with zeal and enthusiasm to make a successful campaign.

Among the more important topics to which Mr. Bailey has addressed himself during the campaign are the open and closed shop issues and the issues will be given considerable attention when Mr. Bailey makes his first address in this county on next Wednesday.

The Milam County Bailey for Governor Club have arranged speaking dates in the county for local friends of the ex-senator.

CARTER MARKET SOLD TO TYSON

WORK BEGUN REMODELING MARKET AS NEW MANAGEMENT TAKES OVER BUSINESS

Announcement is made today that R. R. Tyson and brother, Van Tyson, have purchased the Carter meat market in Cameron and have taken charge of the business.

The business will be in charge of R. R. Tyson, his brother spending the larger part of his time on their ranches and farms near Gause and Maysfield.

Mr. Tyson will conduct a first class meat market in every way and will install such sanitary and new equipment as will be necessary to make it such. One of the features of this market will be the fact that a large percent of the beef cattle sold will be raised on the Tyson farms and ranches.

Mr. Tyson will increase the number of meat articles sold at the market and will handle at all times practically every kind of meat to be found anywhere. A lunch room will be conducted in connection with the market.

Mr. Tyson formerly represented Milam county in the Legislature, is a progressive citizen and business man.

WILL SEND LOCAL SALESMEN AND TRACTOR CLINIC TO BIG MEET AT NAVASOTA

With the view of bringing about a better condition of utility on the farms of Milam County the Chambers-Hefley Motor Company will participate in the two day meeting of Tractor dealers to be held in Navasota on September 2 and 3.

The Chambers-Hefley Motor Company distribute the Fordson Tractor in Cameron and adjacent territory. The company, according to the announcement of C. C. Caldwell, will send its tractor salesman to Navasota and also will send its tractor clinic and all necessary mechanics to take full advantage of the opportunity presented in improving sales and farm methods by placing this modern utility.

The Chambers-Hefley Motor Company, selling the Fordson Tractor in this territory, has placed a large number of these modern farm utilities on farms in Milam county and on last season conducted a successful sales and educational campaign despite the prevailing bad weather conditions.

At this time the local company is laying plans for a successful tractor campaign in this territory. Shipments of tractors have been received from time to time and the company now has complete quantities of these modern farm utilities.

The farm is rapidly being motorized in Texas as well as in all parts of the United States. In some sections progress has been slow in this respect but where tractors are given a trial on farms the community immediately realizes great thrift and industry on the farm and an increased production results.

It is not longer logical, as Mr. Caldwell points out, for the farmer to cling to the old method of cultivating the soil, when such wide-spread progress has been made with the tractor and in the face of the increased efficiency made possible by their use on the farms.

Plowing or breaking the soil for the planting of crops requires more power than any other problem on the farm. It is here that the tractor is at its best for it not only has the power but in speed and character of work makes the horse and plow method too costly and too slow in these days of modern hustle and bustle.

To motorize the farms in Milam county will mean a decided advancement in farm methods the result of which will be a net great increase in yield. Tractor supply power for every problem on the farm. They are being used for many purposes and it is hoped that their sale will increase in this county.

CAMERON BOOSTERS SPEND TWO DAYS IN TOUR OF COUNTY

TRADE TERRITORIES GREET BUSINESS MEN WHO PUSH ADVANTAGES OF CAMERON BUYING.

Cameron's First Annual Trade Trip and Industrial Tour extending to all parts of Milam county and near 200 miles of travel, supported by more than 150 business men representing every phase of commercial life in the city, has passed into record as the most far reaching and beneficial trade endeavor in the history of this county.

On last Thursday afternoon with banners streaming and bands crashing the auto train near a mile in length hustled down the business streets of Cameron on the home-stretch of the two day trip. After the parade in the business district the day concluded with a band concert. The last lap of the trip was made from Maysfield, the last stop in the schedule. Pilot Monta Thomas led the train home ahead of schedule thus concluding a remarkable pace kept up throughout the trip.

The first day of the trip was spent in the southern end of the county with dinner at Thorndale.

Beginning at 8 o'clock Thursday the boosters joined by an additional number of automobiles and business men who could not make the first trip, put out for Buckholts. In this enterprising little city on the Santa Fe fifteen miles southeast of Cameron the boosters spent a full half hour mingling with the people and preaching Cameron trade advantages.

Hon. A. J. Lewis, newly elected county attorney of Milam county, was the orator of the day and delivered his first address of the day in Buckholts from a motor truck on the main street. The band under Director Medsker played for the citizens who gathered to meet the Cameronites.

From Buckholts the Boosters went to Yarellton and in the little town set comfortably among the blooming cotton fields of that great farming section, met farmers and business men and talked to them of the commercial advantages of Cameron. The band played and soon the train was flowing out in an even stream of motor units across fertile fields into the heart of the north Cameron trade territories dotted by farm homes adjacent to the towns of Ben Arnold, Burlington and Wokaty.

The fourth stop of the day was made at Ben Arnold on the Sap railroad north of Cameron. Here the Boosters spent about 30 minutes mingling with the good people there and distributing advertising literature. Mr. Lewis made a speech to the crowd assembled.

At Burlington the Boosters were served lunch. Here Mr. Lewis made the most enthusiastic address of the day in response to the address of welcome delivered by the Catholic Priest. He praised Cameron and gave them a general good talk along industrial lines. From Burlington the Boosters went to Clarkson, and thence to Jones Prairie. From there they went to Baileyville and came back to Maysfield the last stop of the trip and from there to Cameron.

It is planned to make the trip an annual affair. This should be acted upon by the Commercial Club at its regular meeting.

COTTON FARMERS REFUSE TO SELL SEED CONTRACT IS LET FOR NEW CHURCH ORGANIZE AND LEASE STORAGE FOR PRODUCT; MOVEMENT MAY SPREAD OVER THE SOUTH

Contract has been awarded for the erection of the new building for the Methodist church in Cameron to the J. E. Johnson construction company of Waco.

The contract price for the finished building is $80,700. The building is to be completed within 90 working days and will be ready for occupancy by April 1921.

This will be the largest and most modern church building in the county and will compare favorably with any in Central Texas. It is a monument to a great progressive religious body in Cameron and all the people join in with them in grateful appreciation of their magnificent effort.

It is planned, according to the announcement of Rev. Ira F. Key, the pastor, to entertain the Texas annual conference of the church one year from this fall.

An Old Soldier On Bailey's War Record

During the late world war Bailey was opposed to America's taking a stand for freedom and human liberty.

When Congress and President Wilson had decided that to remain longer out of the conflict would be the course of cowardice and a forfeiture of our national self-respect, and when patriotic men and women at home were spending their energy and their money to furnish our boys in the trenches with comfort and equipment, Bailey shut his mouth, and remained silent, refusing to make a four-minute speech to encourage the purchase of Liberty Bonds; and now gives, as his reason, that he could not afford to ask his friends to buy these bonds because he believed they would go below par and sell at a discount.

Perhaps the most scathing rebuke of this war record of the ex-senator from Texas was given by Col. Marchbanks of Waxahachie, an old Confederate soldier, who introduced Pat Neff to his Waxahachie audience of more than two thousand on August 6. Col. Marchbanks is over 70 years of age. His only son was killed in action on the fields of France, fighting under the American flag.

"The old man, white haired, white bearded, hands clasped behind his back, made a fine figure as he stood with erect shoulders and quavering voice, addressing his fellow townsmen. 'I represent the American people, he said. 'When they asked me to speak tonight, I did not want to do it, but a voice told me not to decline when duty calls. Thoughts went over the ocean. I saw the wounded and the dead there. I saw my boy and I knew it was my duty to speak tonight. Not in a personal partisan way but for a great cause.

"When I came out of Appomattox I said I did not ever want any more war. But in all these years I have always been for my country, right or wrong and I have not criticised our Presidents, either Democratic or Republican. Much less did I criticise our great President Woodrow Wilson, who led my boy to war. My wife and I bought a $50.00 Liberty Bond and the bank carried it, and we paid it out on the installment plan. It never occurred to me whether I would get a dollar out of it or not, and I never cared. The man who was too scrupulous about that ought to have told his fellow-countrymen that they might go down, but to buy them so we could win the war. My boy put as much as he could of his poor little $30.00 salary into Liberty Bonds too, and he never asked how much they would be worth, and whether they would carry a premium. And he did not shut his mouth, but went on, willing to give his life for his country. I am not willing to trust a man who was not willing to trust his country during the war. I am not willing to trust a man who was silent when death and danger swept over his country."

Cotton farmers of Milam county have determined by agreement not to sell cotton seed for less than $50 per ton prior to September 1, and for not less than $60 per ton hereafter.

This agreement was reached at a mass meeting of the farmers held in Cameron on Tuesday of this week. More than 200 farmers attended the meeting from all parts of the county and the resolution adopted is strong in purpose and clarity outlining the basis on which the farmers take this action.

The resolution alleges that cotton seed prices are as low as $17.50 per ton and that this quotation is in effect confiscatory, being far below the cost of production.

An effort is being made to extend the agreement to all parts of Texas and the cotton states.

The meeting was called to order by J. K. Freeman, Cameron attorney and cotton expert. In a ringing speech denouncing the price quotations Mr. Freeman declared that the prices offered will result in a loss of $50,000,000 to the cotton farmers of Texas. He also said that an increase in the price of ginning will put $5,000,000 more on the farmers of Texas.

It was announced in the course of the meeting that the farmers had rented the Farmers' Union Warehouse in Cameron to store seed, the storage work being under the direction of the executive committee of the county, chosen at the meeting.

T. S. Henderson also addressed the farmers suggesting an organized effort all over the country.

W. A. Morrison declared the situation an "economic crime" and suggesting that the anti trust laws be enforced.

J. A. Bailey, farmer and chairman of the Jones Prairie meeting where the matter was first discussed gave some figures and facts regarding the situation declaring that at the present rate of decrease in cultivation that in 15 years the farming industry will have perished.

He declared for organization and a legitimate profit on the product of the farmer as a means of sustaining the industry and warding off disaster.

At the afternoon session the farmers heard an address by Fred Roberts of the American Cotton Growers Association of Corpus Christi.

Following is the executive committee for the county: B. F. Pugh, Cameron; H. P. McKinney, Jones Prairie; J. L. York, Milano; E. E. Eiland, Rockdale; Ben Massey, Rockdale; W. H. Bonds, Buckholts; W. G. Frazier, Cameron; J. F. Jackson, Rockdale.

J. K. Freeman elected Chairman of the meeting and J. E. Cherry of Rockdale, secretary.

Following is the committee to meet the ginners: Nick McBurnet, Rockdale; J. A. Bailey, Jones Prairie; Bryan Swanny, Buckholts; Bob Sharpe, Cameron; Paul Graves, Buckholts.

We, your committee, recommend or submit the following as our report:

BE IT RESOLVED

That we, the Cotton Growers of Mil-

lam County, in convention assembled in the City of Cameron, on the 9th day of August 1920.

1. That the prevailing price, $17.50 per ton, offered for cotton seed at the beginning of this season is less than the cost of production.

2. That no reason or cause exists for that low price. The average price for cotton seed for the 1919 crop was $60.00 per ton. The present present price, $25.00 per ton, a reduction of $35.00 per ton. This reduction estimating the 1920 crop at 3,000,000 bales, will be a loss of $2,500,000 to the farmers of Texas, on seed alone. The ginners, encouraged by the example of the Cotton Seed Association, have advanced the price of ginning $1.60 per bale, and the price for bagging and ties for wrapping, 25 cents per bale, a total of $1.85, or a total burden imposed upon the farmers of the State of $5,500,000.00. That the reduction in the price of seed, and the advance in the price of ginning and bagging and ties are the result of some price fixing arrangement, unjust, unfair and ruinous to the Cotton Growers of the State.

3. That we obligate ourselves to sell no seed of this crop, prior to September 1, for a less sum than $50.00 per ton, and no seed after September 1, for a less sum than $60.00 per ton.

4. That the advance in the price since the opening of the season inspires us in the belief that we will receive a better price for our cotton seed produced this year; and that such advance in the price strengthens us in our determination to hold our seed for the price above named.

5. That we urge the cotton growers in each community throughout the county to arrange at once for storage facilities, so that all cotton seed may be held until the prices above named are obtained.

6. That we request and urge the cotton growers in other counties of the State to hold meetings and make suitable arrangements for withholding their cotton seed from the market until a fair price can be obtained.

7. That we recommend and urge that the cotton growers of the various counties throughout the state hold County Conventions and arrange for a State Convention at an early day, so that the Cotton Growers may reach an agreement and combine their efforts in the protection of the price of their products.

8. That each of our county papers and other papers throughout the State be furnished with a copy of these resolutions, with the request that the same be published.

Respectfully,
B. D. MASSEY, Chairman
H. P. MCKINNEY, Secretary,
Committee

COX CHAMPIONS LEAGUE COVENANT

Democratic Nominee In Militant Speech Marches With Standard Into Race For Presidential Nomination Scores Senatorial Cabal.

Fair Grounds, Dayton, O., Aug 7.—Governor James M. Cox Saturday received and accepted formally the democratic presidential nomination.

On the league issue, and generally the democratic standard bearer declared he presented to the American people a choice between democratic progress and reactionary republicanism.

Senator Robinson of Arkansas, who delivered the notification speech, hailed the candidate as an "experienced and progressive-minded leader, with a long record of achievements during his three terms as Ohio's governor."

Delegations Parade
A salvo of applause was given the marchers from Marion. Senator Harding's home. They were led by 150 women and carried a banner declaring "We're here, Jimmy; all from Marion."

Another said, "No, Cox never played a horn and he won't play second fiddle to any senate bunch."

The governor got several laughs out of the banners, which included the statement, "A little too warm on the front porch."

Innumerable legends were on banners carried by the marchers.

About a hundred miners from the Cambridge, O., coal district drew a wave of applause when they appeared in working clothes and safety head lamps. "Jimmy Cox, the friend of the miners," was on their banners.

Clermont county, Ohio, pilgrims carried a banner claiming the honor of being the first Cox Club in the country by organization July 6 at 4 p. m. after the flash came from San Francisco. They received an extra tribute from the governor and spectators.

Notables Present
The amphitheater was crowded long before the parade arrived and the sun swelled the receipts of the soft drink vendors.

Mrs. Cox and Mrs. Roosevelt, the governor's daughter, Mrs. J. D. Mahoney, with other relatives and friends of the candidate's occupied a large box directly across the press section from the speakers' stand.

Other boxes held democratic notables galore. To one side of the speakers' stand was seated the notification committee and to the rear the democratic national committee.

Stepping upon the speakers' stand the governor and Mr. Roosevelt received the marchers, waving their hands and shouting occasionally to friends they recognized. Also on the reviewing stand were Chairman White of the national committee, and Gilbert Cox, 87, father of the presidential candidate.

The parade ended at 4 o'clock with greetings to many hundred Dayton democrats.

Mr. Roosevelt was presented to the throng as "the next vice-president," and was given an ovation. Senator Robinson then delivered his address of notification.

"A few years ago Cox's army marched on Washington. Another army, Jimmy Cox's army will advance and take the White House in November."

J. O. NEWTON PURCHASES

STOCK OF ROCKDALE FIRM

Gen. J. O. Newton, formerly president and general manager of J. B. Newton & Sons, general mercantile establishment at Milano, has severed his connection with that institution and purchased the R. L. Hale stock in Rockdale, and becomes an associate with the business. Gen. Newton is an experienced merchant, a good cotton buyer, and a genuine and thorough going business man. He is well and favorably known in the Rockdale trade territory and throughout Milano county, and while Milano has suffered a great loss in his departure, Rockdale will profit by claiming him as one of her citizens. Gen. Newton is now in actual charge of Scarborough & Hick Company's business, and will remove his family to Rockdale in the near future.—Milano Gazette.

Partial text of the speech of Gov. Cox:

Chairman Robinson, and members of the notification committee: The message which you bring from the great conference of progressive thought assembled under the formal auspices of the democratic party inspires within me a pride and an appreciation which I can not voice. At the same time I am mindful of the responsibility which this function now officially places upon me. As I measure my own limitations the task ahead of us should be approached with more than a feeling of diffidence if I were not strengthened and reassured by the faith that one has only to practice true fidelity to conscience. It is not the difficult thing to know what we ought to do; the sense of right and wrong has been given with divine equality. The mistakes of history are the result of weakness in the face of tempting interests. I thank God therefore, that I am to take up the standard of democracy a free man, unfettered by promises and happy in the consciousness of untrammelled opportunity to render a service in the name of government that will hold for it the confidence which it deserves.

Straight Thinking
We are in a time which calls for straight thinking, straight talking and straight acting. This is no time for wobbling. Never in all our history has more been done for government. Never was sacrifice more sublime. The most precious things of heart and home were given up in a spirit which guarantees the perpetuity of our institutions—if the faith is kept with those who served and suffered. The altar of our republic is drenched in blood and tears, and he who turns away from the tragedies and obligations of the war, not consecrated to a sense of honor and of duty which resists every base suggestion of personal or political expediency, is unworthy of the esteem of his countrymen.

The men and women who by expressed policy at the San Francisco convention charted our course in the open seas of the future sensed the spirit of the hour and phrased it with clarity and courage. It is not necessary to read and re-read the democratic platform to know its meaning. It is a document clear in its analysis of conditions and plain in the pledge of word and intent. Proud of the leadership and achievement of the party in war, democracy faces unafraid the problems of peace. Indeed, its pronouncement has but to be read along with the platform framed by the republican leaders in order that both spirit and purpose as they dominate the opposing organizations may be contrasted. On the other a captious, unhappy spirit and the treatment of subjects vital to the present and the future, in terms that mind. It was clear that the senatorial oligarchy had been given its own way in the selection of the presidential candidate, but it was surprising that it was able to fasten into the party platform the creed of hate and bitterness and the vacillating policy that possesses it.

Senatorial Cabal
In the midst of war the present senatorial cabal, led by Senators Lodge, Penrose and Smoot, was formed. Superficial evidence of loyalty to the president was deliberate in order that the great rank and file of their party faithful and patriotic to the very core, might not be offended. But underneath this misleading exterior, conspirators planned and plotted, with bigoted zeal. With victory to our arms they delayed and obstructed the works of peace. If deemed useful to the work in hand no artifice for interfering with our constitutional peace-making authority was rejected. Before the country knew, yea, before these men themselves knew the details of the composite plan, formed at the peace table, they declared their opposition to it. Before the treaty was submitted to the senate in the manner the constitution provides, they violated every custom and every consideration of decency by presenting a copy of the document, procured unblushingly from enemy hands, and passed it into the printed record of senatorial proceedings. From that hour dated the enterprise of throwing the whole subject into a technical discussion, in order that the public might be confused.

Fateful Times
These are fateful times. Organized government has definite duty all over the world. The house of civilization is to be put in order. The supreme issue of the century is before us and the nation that halts and delays is playing with fire. The finest impulses of humanity, rising above national lines, merely seek to make another horrible war impossible.

Under the old order of international anarchy war came overnight, and the world was on fire before we knew it. It sickens our senses to think of another. We saw one conflict into which modern science brought new forms of destruction in great guns, submarines, airships, and poison gases. It is no secret that our chemists had perfected, when the contest came to precipitate close, gases so deadly that whole cities could be wiped out, arms destroyed, and the crews of battle-ships smothered. The public prints are filled with the opinions of military men that in future wars the method more effective than gases or bombs, will be the employment of germs of disease, carrying pestilence and destruction. Any nation prepared under these conditions, as Germany was equipped in 1914, could conquer the world in a year.

Definite Plan
It is planned now to make this impossible. A definite plan has been agreed upon. The league of nations is in operation. A very important work, under its control, just completed, was participated in by the Hon. Elihu Root, secretary of state under the Roosevelt administration. At a meeting of the council of the league of nations February 11 an organizing committee of 12 of the most eminent jurists in the world was selected. The duty of this group was to devise a plan for the establishment of a permanent court of international justice, as a branch of the league. The assignment has been concluded by a unanimous action. This augurs well for world progress. The question is whether we shall or shall not join in this practical and human movement.

President Wilson, as our representative at the peace table entered the league in our name, in so far as the executive authority permitted. Senator Harding, as the republican candidate for the presidency proposes in plain words that we remain out of it. As the democratic candidate, I favor going in.

Let us analyze Senator Harding's plan of making a German-American peace, and then calling for a "new relationship among nations," assuming for the purpose of argument only that the perfidious band that dealt with Germany would possess the power of influence to draw 29 nations away from a plan already at work, and influence them to retract every step and make a new beginning. This would entail our appointing another commission to assemble with those selected by the other powers. With the Versailles instrument discarded the whole subject of partitions and divisions of territory on new lines would be reopened. The difficulties in this regard, as any fair mind appreciates, would be greater than they were at the peace session, and we must not attempt to convince ourselves that they did not try the genius, patience and

COX TAKES FIRM STAND FOR LEAGUE OF NATIONS ATTACKS REPUBLICANS

Senator Harding makes this new pledge of policy in behalf of his party: "I promise you formal and effective peace so soon as a republican congress can pass its declaration for a republican executive to sign."

This means but one thing—a separate peace with Germany!

This plan would not only be a piece of bungling diplomacy, but plain unadulterated dishonesty as well.

In recounting the part America played the war the governor said:

"And yet there is not a line in the republican platform that breathes an emotion of pride, or recites our national achievement! In fact, if a man from Mars were to depend on the republican platform or its outspoken interpretation, by the candidate of the party, as his first means of information, he would not find a syllable telling him that the war had been won, and that America had saved the world."

They preach Americanism with a meaning of their own invention, and artfully appeal to a selfish and provincial spirit, forgetting that Lincoln fought a war over the purely moral question of slavery, and that McKinley broke the fetters of our boundary lines, spoke the freedom of Cuba, and carried the torch of American idealism to the benighted Philippines. They lose memory of Garfield's prophecy that America under the blessings of God-given opportunity would, by her moral leadership and co-operation become a Messiah among the nations of the earth.

The plain truth is that the republican leaders, obsessed with a determination to win the presidential election, have attempted to satisfy too many divergent views. Inconsistencies, inevitable under the circumstances, rise to haunt them on every hand.

More than that their conduct is opposed to the idealism on which their party prospered in other days.

These are fateful times. Organized government has definite duty all over the world. The house of civilization is to be put in order. The supreme issue of the century is before us, and the nation that halts and delays is playing with fire. The finest impulses of humanity rising above national lines merely seek to make another horrible war impossible.

The discourtesy to the president is an affair of political intrigue. History will make it odious. As well it might be directed at a wounded soldier of the war.

The republican proposal means dishonor, world confusion and delay. It would keep us in permanent company with Germany, Turkey, Russia and Mexico. It would entail in the ultimate more real injury than the war itself.

President Wilson as our representative at the peace table entered the league in our name, in so far as the executive authority permitted. Senator Harding as the republican candidate for the presidency proposes in plain words that we remain out of it. As the democratic candidate I favor going in.

Under these conditions, as Germany was equipped in 1914, could conquer the world in a year.

diplomacy of statesmen at that time. History will say that great as was the allied triumph in war, no less a victory was achieved at the peace table.

The republican proposal means dishonor, world confusion and delay. It would keep us in permanent company with Germany, Russia, Turkey and Mexico. It would entail, in the ultimate, more real injury than the war itself.

Soul Touched

The very soul of America was touched as never before with a fear that our liberties were to be taken away. What America did, needs no reiteration here. It is known of all men. History will acclaim it—poets will find it an inspiration throughout the ages. And yet there is not a line in the republican platform that breathes an emotion of pride, or recites our national achievement. In fact, if a man from Mars were to depend upon the republican platform or its spoken interpretation, by the candidate of that party, as his first means of information, he would not find a syllable telling him that the war had been won, and that America had saved the world. How ungenerous, how ungracious all of this; how unfair that a mere group of leaders should so demean themselves in the name of the party of Lincoln and McKinley and Roosevelt.

The discourtesy to the president is an affair of political intrigue. History will make it odious. As well it might be directed at a wounded soldier of the war. One fell in the trench; the strength of the other was broken in the enormous labors of his office. But others were ignored—the men and women who labored at home with industry and a skill that words can not recount. What of the hands that moved the lathe by day and the needle by night?

Food Organization

What of the organizations, superbly effective, that conserved food and fed the world—that carried nourishment to the very front trench in the face of hell's furies—that nursed the wounded back to life—that buried the dead in the dark shelter of the night—that inspired business men and artisans of all parties to work in harmony? What of the millions of men and women and children of all creeds, religious and otherwise, who stood in the ranks as firm as soldiers overseas, undivided by things they once quarreled about? What of the government itself—confirming the faith of our fathers as sufficient to meet the storms of time? Why the sneer at labor with the veiled charge that it was a mere slacker? The spectacle sufficient to convince any unprejudiced man that the republican leaders who have taken charge of their party and nominated its candidate, are no more possessed of the spirit of the hour than they were in 1912 when they precipitated a revolution within the rank and file of a great organization. If further proof were needed, the action of the present congress supplies it.

No Constructive Law

Not a constructive law can be cited. Money and time were wasted in seeking to make a military triumph an odious chapter in history—and yet it is not significant that after two years of sleuthful inquiry, there was nothing in that vast enterprise, carrying billions of dollars in expense, upon which they could base even a whisper of dishonesty?

The Mexican situation, trying to our patience for years, begins to show signs of improvement. Not the least of the things that have contributed to it, is a realization by the people of that country, that we have neither the lust for their domain, nor disposition to disturb their sovereign rights. Peace smiles upon the border and incentive to individual effort seems to be making a national aspiration.

Many elements have made our republic enduring; not the least of which is a sustained gratitude. The richest traditions of our land are woven from historic threads that tell the bravery of our soldiers in every war. They make the first impression of history upon the minds of our children and bind the hearts of generations together. Never in all time will the performance of our soldiers in the

lats war be suppressed. From farm, forest and factory, they gathered together in the training camps—from countryside and city—men whose hands were calloused by labor; others whose shoulders showed the stoop of official task—the blood of many nations flowing in their veins—and the same impulse ran from the front trench in Europe back to the first day in training.

War Breaks Plans

We must not forget that war breaks into the plans of young men, and their first chart of life is in a sense more important than any calculation later on. In college and shop—in every calling, they were building the base for their careers. Thousands of them who by the circumstance of injury or the disturbance of domestic conditions which war always brings, were compelled to change their whole course of life. We owe a debt to those who died, and to those the honored dead left dependent. We owe a debt to the wounded; but we must realize that considerable compensation is due to those also who lost much by the break in their material hopes and aspirations. The genius of the nation's mind and the sympathy of its heart, must inspire intensive thoughtful effort, to assist those who saved our all. I feel deeply that the rehabilitation of the disabled soldiers of the recent war is one of the most vital issues before the people and I, as a candidate, pledge myself and my party to those young Americans to do all in my power to secure for them without necessary delay, the immediate training which is so necessary to fit them to compete in their struggle to overcome that physical handicap incurred while in the service of their government. I believe also that the federal board of vocational rehabilitation as far as possible should employ disabled soldiers themselves to supervise the rehabilitation of disabled soldiers, because of their known sympathy and understanding.

Disabled Soldiers

The board itself and all agencies under it should be burdened with the care of securing for the disabled soldier who has finished his training, adequate employment. These men will inspire future generations no less than they have themselves been inspired by the heroes of the past. No greater force for patriotic effort was found when we were drawn into the late conflict than the example and activity of our veterans of previous wars. Under the colors they loved, gathered the soldiers of the past, bringing quickly to their support the new army of the republic. Response in the Southland by veterans who wore the gray inspired the youth with a zeal which aided greatly in the quick mobilization of our forces.

The women of America, in emotion and constructive service, measured up during the war to every requirement, and emergency exacted of them. Their initiative, their enthusiasm and their sustained industry, which carried many of them to the heavy burdens of toil, form an undying page in the annals of the time, while the touch of the mother's heart in camp and hospital, gave a sacred color to the tragic picture that feeble words should not even attempt to portray. They demonstrated not only willingness but capacity. They helped win the war, and they are entitled to a voice in the readjustment now at hand. Their intuition, their sense of the humanitarian in government, their unquestioned progressive spirit will be helpful in problems that require public judgment.

New Morning

We want the dawn and the dews of a new morning. We want happiness in the land, the feeling that the square deal among men and between men and government is not being interfered with by a purchased preference. We want a change from the old world of yesterday where international intrigue made the people mere pawns in the chessboard of war. We want a change from the old industrial world where the man who toiled was assured "a full dinner pail" as his only lot and portion. But how are we to make the change? Which way shall we go? We stand at the forks of the road and must choose which to follow. One leads to a higher citizenship, a freer expression of the individual and a fuller life for all. The other leads to reaction, the rule of the few over the many and restriction of the average man's chances to grow upward. Cunning devices backed by unlimited prodigal expenditures will be used to confuse and to lure. But I have an abiding faith that the pitfalls will be avoided and the right road chosen. The leaders opposed to democracy promise to put the country "back to normal." This can only mean the so-called normal of former reactionary administrations, the outstanding feature of which was a pitance for farm produce and a small wage for a long day of labor. My vision does not turn backward to the "normal" desire by the senatorial oligarchy, but to a future in which all shall have a normal opportunity to cultivate a higher stature amidst better environment than that of the past. Our view is toward the sunrise of tomorrow with its progress and its eternal promise of better things. The opposition stands in the skyline of the setting sun, looking backward to the old days of reaction.

I accept the nomination of our party, obedient to the divine sovereign of all peoples, and hopeful that by trust in Him the way will be shown for helpful service.

J. N. LUCE DEAD

The many friends of Joseph Nathaniel Luce were saddened to hear of his death, which took place at the home of his daughter at Walkers Creek July 30. For several years he has been very feeble, but the last few weeks his sufferings had been very great, yet the true soldier he was, he bore them so patiently. He was 94 years, 9 months and 27 days old, was a native born Texan and an old time settler of this county, and was loved and respected by all who know him. He was born in Crockett District, Cherokee county, near Alto, October 3, 1825. When only two years of age his mother died and he was left in his father's care. At the age of thirteen years he gave his heart to God and united with the Methodist church of which he has since been a devoted member. In 1848 he was married to Miss Virginia Middleton. This union was blessed with 8 children, 3 having passed to the great beyond. In 1862 he answered the call of his country and remained in the army till the close of the war. He was in Wall's Legion Co. F., was wounded on Banks raid at Marksville, Louisiana. After the surrender of Vicksburg, he walked from Meridian, Mississippi to Palestine, Texas, and was 57 days on the road.

On December 15, 1892 his dear wife passed away.

He leaves to mourn his loss 2 daughters, 3 sons, 28 grand-children and 2 great-grand-children.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Ira F. Key Friday afternoon at 5:30 at Walkers Creek cemetery.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, is taken internally and acts thru the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. One Hundred Dollars reward is offered for any case that Hall's Catarrh Medicine fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

How Could She Tell?
One of the girls ushers in a Flat-bush theater had a problem offered her the other evening. She was showing two women their seats.

"Is the show this evening fit for church women to see?" asked one of the pillaresses of a Flatbush congregation.

"I—I don't know," responded the girl. Then she brightened. "You see," she said, "I don't have no time to go to church."—New York Mail.

Grumbling Unfashionable.
One of the results of these strenuous times in which we are living is that grumbling is going out of fashion. People are ashamed to fret about trifles, when they see how bravely others are making great sacrifices and bearing great troubles. It is to be hoped that there will be less grumbling this year than ever before in America since the landing of the pilgrims, and that the fashion will never return.—Girl's Companion.

Tom—Most assuredly. I killed a howling cat with one last night.

DODSON WOULD STOP
SALE OF CALOMEL

Says Calomel is Mercury and Acts Like Dynamite on Your Liver.

Dodson is making a hard fight against calomel in the South. Every druggist has noticed a great falling off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason, Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place. "Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tone is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggist. Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist. A large bottle costs but a few cents, and if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.

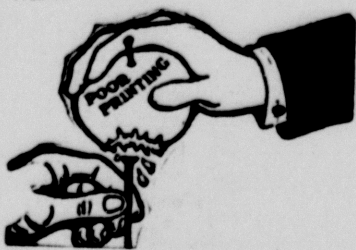

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine, no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work! Take Dodson's Liver Tone instead and feel fine, full of vigor and ambition.

The many friends of Rev. Wm. E. Copeland, of Rockdale, and beloved pastor of the Presbyterian there, will be grieved to learn of his serious illness. A trained nurse is with him and all being done for his comfort and restoration.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Hair that loses its color and lustre or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

PRESBYTERIAN SOCIAL

Last Thursday night the officers and teachers of the Presbyterian Sunday School entertained the officers and teachers of all the other churches. There were almost fifty present.

The guests were received most graciously by Rev. and Mrs. MacFadyen, Dr. and Mrs. Jim Watson and Mrs. Giles Averiet.

After all had arrived and were seated the following program was carried out.

Prayer—Rev. Ira Key.

Song—"A Little Bit of Love"—Miss Owen Bacon.

Reading—"L'Envoi"—Harleigh McGregor.

Judge Gillis was then called upon to state the reason of the meeting. He explained that they had met in conference to try to promote Sunday School work. That co-operation should be their slogan, and that all the churches in Cameron should join hands to have larger and better schools.

Rev. Ira Key followed this by emphasizing the fact that the Sunday School of today furnishes the church its great opportunity.

Mrs. Giles Averiet then told of her visit to the Sunday School Convention at Waco in a most enthusiastic and charming way.

Mrs. Wm. Henderson voiced the sentiment of the meeting in hearty co-operation.

Mr. W. H. Triggs said that he had been in Sunday School work a long time and had learned that the best way to get the young people to come to Sunday School was to urge the parents to bring the children themselves, that the teachers should be there every Sunday if they wished to hold their classes.

A motion was made and a committee of one from each church named to call another like meeting with a view of organizing a City Conference for Sunday School work.

This committee was: Mrs. Giles L. Averiet, Chairman, Mrs. Roy Jeter, Messrs. Will Triggs, F. J. Beckerman, Mrs. T. A. Pope.

The meeting was then thrown open to a social hour and the ladies, assisted by some of the girls of the church, served delicious cake of all kinds, sandwiches, and punch, while the Victrola furnished music.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

Last Monday night, Mrs. W. O. Triggs surprised her husband with a dinner.

A round dozen of his closest friends were bidden to the feast.

The home was beautifully decorated with various cut flowers and the center piece on the table was a large bowl of scarlet sage.

Three courses were served by Mesdames W. O. Triggs and Wm. Rogers, consisting of fried chicken and all the good things that go with it, a salad course, ice cream and cake and cigars.

Those present were: Messrs. W. H. Alex., W. O. and Claud Triggs, Bill Alex Bonds, Wm. Rogers, Charles McDermott, Giles Averiet, Jack Lewis, Roy Baskin, Monta Thomas and Dr. Elbra Monroe.

HIGH NOON LUNCHEON

Miss Wallys Plaster honored her friend, Mr. W. R. Hoover of Eastview, Ky., last week with a luncheon.

Place cards were laid for the following: Misses Gladys Robinson, Jewel Joslin and Wallys Plaster, and Messrs. W. R. Hoover, her honor guest.

Max and Frank Plaster.

On a perfectly laid board with a large bowl of scarlet sage as a centerpiece the following four course luncheon was served.

Fruit cocktail, Fried Chicken, cream peas, potatoes, stuffed tomatoes, pickles, olives, fruit salad wafers, chocolate ice cream, angel food cake.

After enjoying this delicious repast the young people spent the afternoon enjoying Miss Wallys' baby grand piano.

All three of the young ladies present have unusual musical talent and both vocal and instrumental music was enjoyed.

Mr. W. R. Hoover, of Eastview, Ky., returned to his home last Friday after a pleasant visit with friends in Cameron.

SHAFER-FRANKLIN

At Lexington on August 8th Mr. Keen Franklin, now of San Diego, California and in the Navy, but formerly of Cameron, and Miss Jewel Shaffer of Lexington, were very quietly married and left immediately for California.

Miss Shaffer is very kindly remembered by many Cameron people as a popular nurse at the Cameron Sanitarium.

The Cameron Herald and many Cameron friends wish for them a safe journey and a happy life.

A DINNER

Mrs. Mack Harvey is out keeping house for her father, Mr. R. L. Batte in the absence of Mrs. Batte.

On Friday at six o'clock Mrs. Mack Harvey served all the house guests to an elegant five course dinner and invited a few others in to enjoy it with them. Those other than the house guests were: Mesdames W. O. Womack of Arlington, W. W. Womack of Woodland, Oklahoma and Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Batte, Jr.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

The beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Rogers was again the scene of brightness and joy Tuesday night when Mrs. Rogers entertained at dinner seventeen of Mr. Rogers' friends.

The dining room was lovely with the handsome board stretched to its full length, and on its snowy whiteness rested a centerpiece of red zenias.

Assisted by her sister, Mrs. W. O. Triggs, Mrs. Rogers served the following three course dinner—the things men most love: Fried chicken, rice, gravy cream potatoes, fresh tomatoes, hot biscuit butter, corn, olives, ice tea; fruit salad, cheese straws, cherry pie served a la mode, cigars.

NEIGHBORHOOD MUSIC

Monday night some of Mrs. J. G. Vest's neighbors gathered in after tea to enjoy some music, and meet her aunt, Miss Margaret Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Phillips, Mrs. Ira Perry, Mrs. Henry MacFadyen, Miss Francis Morrison and Eugenia Wallace joined the party and some delightful music, fun and frolic was indulged in until about 11:30 o'clock.

CHAMBERS-SLAUGHTER

Announcement cards were received this week by a number of interested friends announcing the marriage of Rev. C. N. Slaughter and Miss Dorothy Chambers of Pinkney.

Mr. Slaughter will be kindly remembered by all Presbyterians who months with his sister, Mrs. E. Egert during his furlough from Missionary work in Africa.

Miss Chambers is the daughter of the Rev. G. W. Chambers of Pinkney, Missionary to the Indians.

They were married on August 4th and went to Macon, Ga., thence to New York, and back to Africa in many friends in wishing this interesting couple a safe journey and God speed and success in their grand and noble work.

BARBECUE, SWIM AND DANCE

The young men of Calvert invited the Kameron Kamp Krowd and a few other young people to come over Tuesday night.

Phone messages whirled around until all were notified, and at 6:30 o'clock the "Krowd" gathered at the home of Miss Mary Lake Henderson for the starting point.

Four cars full went over and had a shortly after midnight. A most delicious repast was awaiting them of barbecued chicken, toasted and buttered buns, pickles and olives.

Calvert has a splendid Club House with natatorium and dance hall, so the swim came next, followed by a dance until home going time.

Miss Susannah Jackson is spending the week in Salem with her sister, Mrs. Carlton.

Health About Gone

Many thousands of women suffering from womanly trouble, have been benefited by the use of Cardui, the woman's tonic, according to letters we receive similar to this one from Mrs. Z. V. Spell, of Hayne, N. C. "I could not stand on my feet, and just suffered terribly," she says. "As my suffering was so great, and he had tried other remedies, Dr. — had us get Cardui. . . I began improving, and it cured me. I know, and my doctor knows, what Cardui did for me, for my nerves and health were about gone."

The Woman's Tonic

She writes further: "I am in splendid health . . . can do my work. I feel I owe it to Cardui, for I was in dreadful condition." If you are nervous, run-down and weak, or suffer from headache, backache, etc., every month, try Cardui. Thousands of women praise this medicine for the good it has done them, and many physicians who have used Cardui successfully with their women patients, for years, endorse this medicine. Think what it means to be in splendid health, like Mrs. Spell. Give Cardui a trial.

Former Convict Thanks Hobby For Pardon; Intercedes for Two Aged Men Now In Pen

Austin, Aug. 6.—Desiring to personally thank Governor Hobby and the Board of Pardons for granting him a full pardon, "Uncle" Billie Edwards who was recently given his freedom after having served ten years of a thirty-five year sentence, came to Austin, shook hands with the chief executive and each member of the board.

It was nearly a month ago that "Uncle" Billie was liberated. Since then he has been on his farm in Calahan County. By the discovery of oil on his 320 acre tract he is reputed to be almost a millionaire.

It was on his seventieth birthday that "Uncle" Billie was granted his freedom.

The pardon granted by Governor Hobby was not the first "Uncle" Billie Edwards had received, the others having come from Governors Colquitt and Ferguson. They were refused, because the man insisted he had "not yet atoned for the crime."

It was not until recently that "Uncle" Billie would consent to listen to the subject of a pardon. He finally admitted that his conscience had decided that he had paid the penalty and he was ready to return home and begin life anew "Uncle" Billie, while here, interceded with the board in behalf of two aged convicts who have served fourteen years.

"The wear and tear on the old pill when Babe Ruth lands on it for a home run almost every time he comes to bat must be something awful," says H. W. Hefley, local Goodyear Service Station Dealer. "But just think of the wear and tear on demon Babe's bat!"

"Ruth's bulk, plus the hefty swing of his mighty pair of arms, plus the impact with the whizzing at him with Walter Johnson speed, surely is mighty tough on the ball, and incidentally upon the pitcher. But it's only the best players, the best balls and the best bats that can produce such a home-run record.

"Even at that the force of impact when Babe's bat connects with the ball, isn't anything to the impact to which a tire is subjected when it hits a rut or rock on a rough road. Therefore, tubes and casings must be of better stuff than baseballs and bats to withstand the constant strain of frequent impacts. Babe could pound an inflated Goodyear Clincher tire a hundred times a day and never phase it, but if he would pound out a hundred home runs a day there would be a hundred dents in his big war slub and a hundred lopsided baseballs.

never phase it because Goodyear Clincher tires are built to withstand road impact and the strain of heavy shocks. Owners of light cars in America—and there are over four and a half million of them—appreciate that fact for most of them today are traveling on Goodyear Clincher tires and Heavy Tourist Tubes.

"Baseballs soared in price after the war. And they soar every time Babe lands on 'em. But not so with Goodyear tires. They're nearer their pre-war price than any other article on the American market today—and this in spite of the fact that quality has been increased since then, and greater durability has been made possible. They're as faithful as the canine pet who stands guard over his master's grave for they stick until the last with a perfect score until they actually fall to pieces."

Save Money—Put Goodyear Tires on Your Small Car

Avoid disappointment with tires made to be sold at sensationally cheap prices by using Goodyear Tires built to deliver maximum mileage at minimum cost.

The high relative value built into Goodyear Tires, of the 30 x 3-, 30 x 3½-, and 31 x 4-inch sizes, results from the application of Goodyear experience and care to their manufacture in the world's largest tire factory devoted to these sizes.

Such facts explain why more cars, using these sizes, were factory-equipped last year with Goodyear Tires than with any other kind.

If you drive a Ford, Chevrolet, Maxwell or Dort, take advantage of the opportunity to enjoy true Goodyear mileage and economy; equip your car with Goodyear Tires and Heavy Tourist Tubes at our nearest Service Station.

THE FARMERS AROUSED

The action of the cotton farmers of Milam County in protesting what they
characterize as confiscatory prices
for their cotton seed may well elicit
the active approval of every business man and citizen in the county and elsewhere, who, though, not in the cotton producing class but vitally interested in the stability and prosperity of this the greatest of all American industries.

Resolutions passed by the farmers
in mass meeting assembled provide that all farmers of the county shall unite in an effort to command better
prices for their cotton seed; that no
cotton seed will be sold prior to September 1 for less than $50 per ton;
that no cotton seed shall be sold after
that date for less than $60 per ton;
that all Texas and the cotton growing
states unite upon this common ground
of action to preserve the best interests of the farmer and to command a legitimate profit upon the products of
his toil.

Some startling facts were brought out in connection with the open hearing conducted by the farmers who have laid their plans for a permanent organization in the county.

price being paid for cotton seed at this time.

This is in effect confiscation.

It is a distressing situation to say
the least of it, that a product enjoying so wide a demand throughout the civilized world as a food commodity
should command no more in its raw
state than is being offered at this time. The situation is more appalling
when we consider that the cost of the finished product has not diminished in price; that the various by-products
continue to be stable in market value
commanding in some instances fabulous wr time prices.

The farmers are asked to sell their products at less than the cost of production.

If the manufacturers, the jobbers
and the retailers make no corresponding reduction or concessions in the
finished product, the position of the farmers is well taken and quite unassailable.

The situation only brings to mind
the necessity for organization among the farmers. The farmer must adopt
business methods; must assert his right to participate in the councils
that set the price upon his product;
must so fortify himself as to be able
to meet the character of commercial combination that are arrayed, not against the farmer, but collectively
to make the most of every opportunity
to enhance their own profits upon his product. This in effect has proven financially disastrous to the farmers.

FROM THE MAIL BOX

AN EX-SOLDIER'S
AGAINST JOE BAILEY

As one of the returned soldiers I am compelled to speak against him
now for he utterly failed to use his great influence to support us while we were in France facing the arch
enemy of our country. When called upon to make a four-minute talk in the interest of the Liberty Bond sale
he refused to speak and gave as his reason that he could not advise his friends to buy any bonds that he knew would sell at a discount. Suppose everybody had adopted such a rule of patriotism what would have become of us who were in the front lines? We would have starved to death or would have been cut to pieces
by the Kaiser's armies. Our great victory in the war was not due to any encouragement from Mr. Bailey.
Of course he may have done as many German sympathizers did—buy some Liberty Bonds but as you remember
at that time public sentiment was a very strong factor in inducing many pro-German sympathizers to buy bonds. If I had obstructed, by my silence, the prosecution of the war
when my country was in great danger
I certainly would not have had the gall
to come out so soon after the victory
was won and ask red blooded true
Americans to honor me with a high office. Search the country over and
I defy any one to show me a slacker
or German sympathizer who is not at heart for Bailey. I can't see why
any good men are willing to line

themselves up with the enemies of our country when it is so plain.

My son and I both volunteered before the draft law was passed and when the Armistice was signed we were both on the fighting line in France and I am proud to say we bought Liberty Bonds without considering how much we might lose.
Now wont you let me protest the election of this man Bailey who gave us
no support or encouragement but as soon as he would dare brave the sentiment of the public began to tear down and destroy the ideals for which we fought. Shall our dead comrades have died in vain? God forbid. Never shall I believe that the good people of Texas will allow themselves to be deceived and led off in sufficient numbers to elect Joe Bailey, the arch
enemy of all we hold dear, to the great office of Governor of Texas.

JOHN L. DENSON,
Ex-Major M. C. 141st Inf.

WATER WORKS MAN

GIVES OUT FACTS

"I have been trying for years to get something that would relieve me of my troubles and have found it at last in Tanlac," said Alfred Jolly, of 3291 Quitman street, Denver, Colo., and an employee of the water works department of that city.

"For a long time," he continued, "my stomach was in such an awful fix that I could eat hardly a thing without being in misery afterwards. Even the lightest foods would bloat me up with gas and I was constantly belching up sour, undigested food that at times would almost choke me, and often I would get so dizzy and light headed that I would almost fall down, and I would get so nervous that it was almost impossible for me to rest at night. I suffered agony wretched condition that I was hardly fit for a thing."

"After trying nearly everything I could hear of I took Tanlac, and it sure hit the spot and has made a different man of me. My appetite is splendid, my nerves steady, I sleep like a log at night, have gained eight pounds and am in better shape than I have been in years."

"Tanlac is sold in Cameron by New Cameron Drug Co., in Rockdale by Baldrige Bros., in Milano by E. C. Smith and in Burlington by the New Drug Store."

Republicans for Bailey

Bailey's denunciation of Woodrow Wilson and of the platforms and achievements of the Democratic party during the last seven years has unfailingly endeared him to the Republicans. No leader in the Republican ranks could have furnished his party more acceptable aid and comfort than Bailey has, by his persistent efforts to discredit the Democratic party. And his labors have borne him fruit in his race for Governor, as shown by the fact that the Republicans are being advised by their leaders to go into the Democratic primaries and vote for Bailey.

The Texas Republic is a newspaper published in San Antonio, and is recognized as the official organ of the Republican party in Texas. A recent editorial in this Republican organ contains the following:

"The Republic is unalterably of the opinion that the Republicans cannot do a greater service to their State than to help elect Bailey. They can do this without any greater sacrifice of party fealty than is common in every election. Every two years a majority of Texas Republicans vote for one or more Democratic candidates; and never can they be more justified in such action in voting for Bailey. * * * Therefore the sensible, the patriotic thing to do, is to elect Bailey Governor of Texas. And if the Republicans assist in doing this they can claim a share of the credit for that election, and be entitled to recognition in State affairs—something they have not been entitled to in more than half a century. Bailey will make Texas a good governor, and the Republic will willingly give its influence to secure his election."

The Phantom Issue

For weeks J. W. Bailey has espoused the open shop, and has assumed that "the open shop or the closed shop" is the paramount issue in the race for Governor. However, he has not explained, nor any one else understood, how this phantom of his is an issue. Though repeatedly importuned to do so, he has failed to suggest what course he would recommend as relating to the open and closed shop. He has conspicuously failed to propose the enactment or the repeal or the modification of any law affecting in the remotest degree the status of the open shop or the closed shop. He has signally failed to point out an evil for which he suggests a remedy. Hence this hobby of his had come to be generally accepted as one of those purely fictitious issues—a bit of genuine sophistry—presented by the expert demagogue for the sole purpose of getting votes.

About the most irresistible argument yet offered that this phantom of Bailey's is an issue in Texas was advanced at Waxahachie on August 7, by Judge William Poindexter. With unequalled marshalling of facts and employment of rare logic this exponent of Bailey philosophy eloquently elucidated the open shop as an issue in Texas politics, in the following forceful and effulgent paragraph, to-wit:

"Look at conditions in Denver today. Men shot down and thousands of dollars worth of property destroyed. I'm against it, my friends. How do you stand?"

Just how lawlessness in Colorado presents "the open shop or the closed shop" as an issue in the race for Governor in Texas may not be very clear to the ordinary mind, since Thomason, Looney and Neff, from the beginning of the campaign, have condemned, as every law-abiding American condemns violence on the part of either labor, or capital. But perhaps it is only those of the Bailey school who are expected to master Judge Poindexter's logic sufficiently to see clearly that the paragraph above quoted conclusively that "the open shop or the closed shop" is the paramount issue in Texas Democracy.

Judge Poindexter either did not know or could not condescend to consider that eight months ago, and six months before Bailey thought of espousing the open shop, in the same city of Waxahachie, Pat Neff, in the opening speech of the campaign, declared:

"No organization of men, be they miners, bankers or churchmen, should ever march forth beneath a red flag and with a stick of dynamite enforce by destructive power, its demands. The apostles of violence of both labor and capital should be forever silenced. * * * Broad as is this republic, there is beneath its flag no room for corporate power that would oppress labor or labor that would wantonly destroy corporate property."

No one except Bailey and his apostles can persuade himself that there is any issue between Bailey and Neff on "the open shop or the closed shop." No proposition more absurd, no phantom issue more false and fictitious was ever ejected into a campaign.

BAILEY GAINS IN OFFICIAL COUNT

IS NOW LEADING NEFF BY 2,522 VOTES—MISS BLANTON HAS A SUGGESTION.

Dallas, Tex., Aug. 9.—Still lacking returns from five counties, the democratic state executive committee met today and adopted the partial count as official, thus giving Joseph W. Bailey a lead of 2,522 votes over his nearest rival for the gubernatorial nomination at the July primary, Pat M. Neff of Waco. The date for the run-off was fixed as Aug. 28.

The committee sent a telegram to the Tennessee state legislature, which met in special session today, urging ratification of the federal woman suffrage amendment, so that women may vote in the general election in November. There was only one dissenting vote on the resolution to send the message to Tennessee, that of Scott Fulton of Van Alstyne.

A resolution was adopted pointing out that the accredited organ of the Texas republicans had endorsed Mr. Bailey for governor and warning election judges to permit no persons but known democrats to vote Aug. 28.

The resolution instructed the committee to warn the election officials of "an attempt to debauch our primary."

A committee was appointed to cooperate with the Fort Worth reception committee in preparing for the democratic state convention Sept. 7.

Miss Annie Webb Blanton, state superintendent of education, took the floor and charged that her name was not on the ballot in Taylor county and that names of various candidates who had not paid the assessments for the election cost were permitted to go on the ballot. She suggested that chairmen who had not sent in returns be prosecuted.

Judge John Watson left Thursday for Dallas, where he will sit as Judge of the 44th District Court a couple of weeks to relieve Judge E. B. Muse for a vacation.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK
Its Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's Sage Sulphur Compound" now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.

BUCKHOLTS NEWS ITEMS

Miss Audrey Criswell

Buckholts, Texas, Aug. 10.—On account of inclement weather the Baptists were forced to close their revival soon last Thursday night.

A good rain fell here the latter part of last week. Many of the farmers in this section will begin gathering their cotton as soon as the ground dries. A very good cotton crop is predicted.

Mesdames Slone and Bettye White of San Antonio are here to see their mother, Mrs. Smith.

Mr. Tom Griffin of Oklahoma came in last week to see his sisters, Mesdames W. O. Loftin and Joe Kennedy. Mr. Griffin left here twenty-eight years ago and this is his first visit back.

Mr. and Mrs. Marley Cummings of Waco are here the guests of relatives. Cards have been received from Mr. and Mrs. Truman Hamilton announcing the arrival of twins in their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton formerly lived here but they are now residents of Heidenheimer.

Randolph Russell, fifteen year old son of Mr. John Russell living about one mile north of town killed an old rattle snake and eighteen young ones. He came into town last week bringing the nineteen snakes. The citizens of the town made up a purse of several dollars and presented it to the boy in appreciation of his good deed.

Announcements have been received from Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Reeder announcing the engagement of their daughter, Lucille, to Mr. Raymond Rader of San Antonio. Mr. and Mrs. Reeder and family were long time residents of this place, having moved from here to San Antonio only a few years ago. Miss Lucille has a host of friends here who will be interested to learn of her approaching marriage, which will be solemnized the eighteenth of this month.

A message was received Sunday stating that Dr. Young's condition had not improved. Their young son, J. Z. Junior, is also ill at the Temple Sanitarium with a severe case of diphtheria.

Choir practice was had at the Baptist church Sunday night. A good crowd was in attendance.

A community working of the Corinth Cemetery was had Monday. At noon lunch was spread, workers finishing up the work in the afternoon.

Ben Oliver, sixteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Oliver was bitten last week at his home by a snake. He does not know what kind of a snake it was. So far no serious results have set up. He complained of a very severe pain in the arm, where he was bitten twice.

GERMAN SETTLEMENTS FOR BAILEY

The following news item from Gainesville appeared in the Fort Worth Record under date of August 7th.

"Muenster and Lindsay are two large boxes, or voting precincts, in Cooke County. These towns and precincts are German-American settlements. Administration Democrats have made an interesting discovery. Muenster and Lindsay returned majorities for Hughes over Wilson in the November election in 1916. Thomason carried Cooke county over Bailey by more than 500 plurality in July primary, notwithstanding that Muenster and Lindsay rolled up heavy majorities for Bailey. This is the vote of the two precincts:

Muenster—Bailey 106, Thomason 8. Lindsay—Bailey 68, Thomason 1.

"Muenster and Lindsay are almost unanimously wet. Muenster and Lindsay are almost unanimously of Teutonic origin and temperament. According to the files of Cooke county newspapers of 1916 these two boxes repudiated Wilson, the Democratic nominee for President, and voted for Hughes, the Republican nominee."

Gainesville, Cooke County, Texas, is Bailey's alleged home. He has often boasted of his united support in Old Cooke County. In March of this year Mr. Thomason proposed to Mr. Bailey that they submit their candidacies to the voters of Cooke County, the one carrying the county to continue in the race, the other to withdraw. In response to this, Mr. Bailey first stated that he would not hold any office except with the endorsement and support of his home people. Later, however, (and perhaps after receiving a tip from his friends) he declined Mr. Thomason's proposition. In the July primaries he failed to carry Cooke County; he failed to carry the city of Gainesville and he failed to carry the city ward in which he claims to reside.

From the above quoted item, however, it is apparent that Mr. Bailey's war record is perfectly satisfactory to those Germans who are displeased with the policies of Woodrow Wilson.

AMERICAN PARTY PUTS OUT MILANO CANDIDATE

John W. Hairston of Milano is a candidate for Justice of the Peace of Precinct No. 3 on the American Party ticket in the general November election. Also A. J. Gunnels of Liberty is a candidate for Constable on the same ticket. These nominations were made at the county convention of this party at Cameron last Saturday. Various other county candidates were selected at this convention and their names will appear on the American ticket at the general election. This means that our present Democratic nominees will have opponents and a split vote of the people on November 2nd. The American Party supporters remained out of the Democratic primary to a considerable extent, but whether they can defeat the Democratic nominees remains to be seen.—Milano Gazette.

TYPICAL BAILEY CONSISTENCY

Since the July Primaries Bailey and the leaders in his cause are making fervent appeals to those who supported Thomason and Looney in the first primary to vote for Bailey in the run-off. These appeals appear, not only in the large dailies but in our county weekly papers.

The consistency of such appeals is typical of Baileyism. Looney, Thomason and Neff, for months have urged the Democratic public, regardless of their personal political fortunes, to place the stamp of disapproval on Bailey and Baileyism, calling attention to Bailey's attitude toward the Democratic party and to his war record. Prior to the first primary the contest among the supporters of Neff, Looney and Thomason was a mere matter of personal preference as to who should be selected as the standard bearer to lead the fight against Bailey as the common enemy to the Democratic party. Since the first primary Mr. Thomason and Mr. Looney have both publicly announced their unqualified support of Mr. Neff in the run-off and their determined opposition to Mr. Bailey. In spite of these publicly known conditions Bailey and his boosters are appealing to the friends of Mr. Thomason and Mr. Looney; appealing to Democratic men and women who have stood loyal to the party and endorsed Woodrow Wilson and the splendid achievements of his two administrations, to support the candidacy of a man who has repudiated that matchless Democrat and who, for years, has assailed Democratic platforms, denounced Democratic candidates and discredited Democratic administrations; appealing to men and women who stood by the Stars and Stripes during the terrible war, so recently ended and who freely spent their money and their energy to furnish our boys in the trenches with comfort and equipment, to accept the leadership of a man who opposed our country's taking a stand for freedom and the right, who did not raise his voice during the war in support of the American soldier as he faced the Huns and fought for human liberty and who could not even afford to ask his friends to buy Liberty Bonds lest they might go below par and sell at a discount.

To the friends of Mr. Thomason and Mr. Looney such appeals are weak in consistency, and such consistency is weak in its appeals.

Military and Economic Aid For Poland Against the Reds

Hythe, England, Aug. 8.—Great Britain and France are convinced that the bolshevik intend to capture Warsaw and set up a soviet government in Poland.

This was learned from an official source tonight following an announcement at the conference between Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain and Premier Millerand of France, held today to discuss the Polish situation, that the conference would continue tomorrow, when the premiers will pass upon naval, military and economic plans for saving Poland. These plans are being drawn up tonight by Marshal Foch and Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson, chief of the British imperial staff.

These were outstanding developments of the day and followed an official announcement that the soviet government had definitely refused a ten days' truce, requested by Lloyd George, as a result of Friday's meeting with the Russian mission headed by M. Kamenoff and M. Krassin.

No Official Declaration.

While there has been no talk of officially declaring war on Russia, the allies have decided to give Poland all possible military, naval and economic assistance without delay.

The premiers received two notes from Moscow today in answer to Mr. Lloyd George's request for a truce. Tonight they sent another note to the soviet and also advised Poland to seek a truce direct from the bolsheviks who indicated in their refusal of the truce that if the request came direct from the Poles it might have a better chance of being granted. One of the notes received from the bolsheviks today said a meeting of the Poles and Russians had been called for Minsk next Wednesday and that the bolsheviks preferred to make their own arrangements with the Poles.

To Resume Blockade

It was reliably reported tonight

that the blockade of Russia would be reimposed immediately.

Mr. Lloyd George has deferred his statement in the house of commons tomorrow until Tuesday. Mr. Millerand and his party will not return to France until Monday afternoon.

The French are urging the establishment of a defensive line in Poland, either before Warsaw immediately or behind the capital, if it is too late now for the former. M. Millerand also proposed that the French and British troops in the plebiscite areas be used for this line, chiefly for moral support, and that Roumania and Czechoslovakia also be asked to send troops.

Warning to Germany

At the close of the conference M. Millerand presented for the approval of the British delegates a declaration he had drafted. The substance of this constituted a warning to Germany that if an attempt is made in any way to co-operate with the bolsheviks, an army of the allies will occupy the Ruhr region and other points in German territory.

Mr. Lloyd George has not yet indicated his approval of the declaration, but French circles believe he will agree to it, and that the warning will be conveyed to Germany either directly or by an allied declaration.

True State of Affairs

Further details of the meeting in London Friday between the bolshevik representatives and Mr. Lloyd George were learned tonight by the Associated Press. Refusal of the soviet government to accept terms of a truce is taken in conference circles here as meaning that Kamenoff and Krassin have but minor influence with Premier Lenine and War Minister Trotsky.

At the conference Mr. Lloyd George offered every guarantee that the truce would not be used as a means for reinforcing the military position of the Poles. The British premier went so far as to agree to have bolshevik officers behind Polish lines to see that the terms of the truce were rigidly enforced. The premier answered all the Russians' objections and Kamenoff sent the plan to Moscow by wireless with a recommendation that it be adopted.

In British and French circles tonight it is admitted that the situation created by the bolshevik refusal of a truce has brought about a crisis only second in gravity to that which confronted the allies in 1914.

Ford

SIXTEEN YEARS EXPERIENCE

For sixteen years, a corps of metallurgists have been studying and constantly perfecting the steel that goes into every part of the Ford car and the Ford One Ton Truck. Each separate part has been studied to learn the type of steel best fitted for it. Parts receiving constant surface-wear are made of hard, flint-like metal; parts subjected to great vibration or resilience are made of softer, springy steel. Every part is made according to its use—that is, every Genuine Ford part is.

But there are also counterfeit "Ford" parts. These imitations are made by concerns in no way connected with the Ford Motor Company and retailed as side-lines by mail-order houses, down-town stores, and many garages. The unsuspecting customer accepts them because they are called "Ford" parts. To make sure of getting the genuine Ford-made parts, buy them only from Authorized Ford dealers. Likewise bring or take your Ford car to our garage for repairs, replacements, and general "tuning up."

We are Authorized Ford Dealers. We can supply you with all Ford parts for either passenger car or truck. And our shop is equipped to give real Ford service in all repair work.

VILLA WITH ESCORT OF 900 MEN IS ON WAY TO SAN PEDRO

TERMS OF UNCONDITIONAL CAP- TIVITY GIVES FORMER BANDIT HUGE ESTATE

San Pedro, Coahuila, Mexico, via Laredo Junction, Aug. 7.—Under the terms of his "unconditional" surrender Francisco Villa, Mexican bandit leader, will get a huge estate at Canutillo, Durango, where he will be guarded for the remainder of his lifetime by 50 of trusted followers, who will be paid by the government, it was learned here on Friday.

Villa's surrender will cost the Mexican government $2,000,000 gold, according to estimates.

Villa, with 900 officers and men, is en route over the desert to San Pedro for Cuatro for final arrangements for his surrender and disarming of his force. He will reach here Monday and then march to Gomez Palacio, where his men will be disarmed and receive a year's pay prior to being given farms where the men themselves designate, throughout Mexico. Part of them will be in the northern tier of states.

Villa Spies

Villa has spies in every Mexican town and hamlet and these also are en route to Gomez Palacio to share in the surrender terms.

The personal guard of 50 men Villa will select, it is presumed, from among his most trusted officers, thus keeping a nucleus for another revolutionary army if he becomes dissatisfied.

The guard will be paid according to the rank the various officers held under Villa, and can be dispatched, according to the official agreement General Eugenio Martinez made public here.

Word of Honor

According to the agreement signed on July 28, Villa gave his "word of honor" never to fight against the constitutional government or against Mexico, and Martinez gave his word of honor that the conditions agreed on would be complied with strictly.

The agreement creates in Mexico a situation paralleling that resulting in the United States from the Indian settlements.

Villa in surrender is as independent as ever. Federal government agents for days following his assenting to the surrender agreement were unadvised as to his whereabouts. That gave rise to many rumors that the surrender had not yet occurred and that Villa had tricked the government.

Just another report of a case in Cameron. Another typical case. Kidney ailments relieved in Cameron with Doan's Kidney Pills.

F. A. Moseley, farmer, 2nd St., Cameron, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been a standard medicine with me for many years. Several years ago I was right down and out with my back, and was in such a condition that I could hardly do a thing. My back ached all the time and my kidneys were irregular and the secretions contained sediment, that looked like brick dust and the passages were very painful. I tried several kinds of kidney medicine but the only kind that did me any good was Doan's Kidney Pills. They cured me of the attack. I sure am proud to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills for they are just what is claimed for them." 60c, at all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

"Waste of gasoline by all the small cars in the United States is estimated at one-half gallon a day or approximately 838,587,500 gallons a year," declares H. W. Hefley, local Goodyear dealer.

"This waste is due to idling motors, racing motors when starting, not having carburetors properly adjusted and neglecting to coast up to stops and on down grades.

"It would be advisable for owners of these cars to learn to conserve not only in gasoline but in the use of tires. When one stops to consider that there are nearly 4,600,000 small cars in America that require 6,000,000 tires to keep them in operation, it is easy to visualize how great a saving could be brought about by small economies.

"With a few repairs, tires that are frequently thrown away can be made to give several thousand extra miles. Frequent inspections insure maximum mileage and the exercise of cars along this line adds considerable to the life of the tire.

"This is a clincher tire year. More clincher tires will be sold than any other kind. And drivers of cars using clincher tires will receive valuable hints on tire conservation by calling at Goodyear Service Stations.

How Democrats of Other States Regard Bailey

A few weeks ago Bailey suggested that he would stump the doubtful states for the national Democratic ticket. Oklahoma is a doubtful state; and a Democrat from that state writes the Dallas News as follows:

"As I lived in Texas twenty-three years, I have a warm feeling in my heart for Texas people, and I am very anxious about the election you are to have on the 28th. I am looking for J. W. Bailey to be defeated over 100,000 votes, but the more the majority the better it will be. It made me shiver to read what Bailey said about stumping the doubtful States for Governor Cox. I have wondered what he would say to the voters, and when I think of what he would say it makes me afraid that he will want to come to Oklahoma. We don't want him. If you will see how we did Ex-Governor Haskell a few years ago when he ran the United States Senate, and also what we did to Senator Gore on the 3rd of this month, you will see how we stand with the people who have Bailey principles.

The definition of Baileyism that Mr. Neff gave at Coleman was fine, and I don't see how any one can read it and vote for Bailey." (Signed R. H. Jones.)

SAN GABRIEL GOSSIP

By Mrs. J. S. Woody

August 10th.—Mr. and Mrs. Will Jones returned to their home in Galveston Tuesday after a visit here in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Leachman of Dallas, were here last Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Camp.

Master Bill Outlaw was listed with the sick last week.

Mrs. Leonard Goss and children visited relatives in Granger last week.

Mrs. Albright of Colorado is the appreciated guest of her aunt, Mrs. M. Jocelyn of this village. This is the first meeting between aunt and niece for forty years.

Miss Lois Baird has been on the sick list.

Mr. Smith of Beakiss is a visitor in the home of his sister, Mrs. Jones of our village.

Our community received a heavy rain Friday night and Saturday morning, the downpour falling about as heavy as we ever heard. The rain seems to have been rather general and while the tributaries of the Gabriel River in this vicinity, emptied their volume of water and soon found its way seaward, the river channel was full to overflowing throughout its source, in the late afternoon; evidence of heavy precipitation in countries further west. San Gabriel River overflowed in many places—perhaps spoiling fields of fine corn. Backwaters of the Slough that runs between San Gabriel River and the village kept back a herd of cattle owned by Harry Clark, who was driving them from a bottom pasture for safety from high water. Mr. J. M. Gilchrist was the kindly neighbor and offered enclosures for their safe-keeping through Saturday night.

Many citizens from this community were also detained by the swollen currents on their home return from Thorndale Saturday afternoon.

The village proper were out sight-seeing in the late afternoon, watching the rapid race of the turbid waters.

Young cotton is greatly benefitted by this rain, but we, who have open cotton feel no need for it at present.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Elliott motored over from Thorndale for a few minutes chat with their father, F. M. Amason Sunday.

Mr. Dee Moseley and Miss Grace Jones were among many over from Thorndale on an outing Sunday afternoon.

Elbert Fulcher went to South Texas as the past week end.

Elbert Felton was a business visitor in Cameron Monday.

Scores of our people left last week for points in Western counties for the purpose of camping and fishing. Hope Camp and family, Murrell Camp, Gottlieb Yeager, Miss Fay Felton, and several guests of Miss Anna Mae Camp composed a party to Kingsland where they have spent the past week.

Messrs. L. Goss, Ted Adams, Tamp Daniels, Emmitt Davis, Elbert Felton

and John Woody enjoyed most of last week at Marble Falls.

Little Miss Zora Outlaw was operated on last week for tonsillitis. She was accompanied by her mother and father to Cameron, where she underwent the operation and is recovering nicely at present.

J. R. Foster of Rockdale spent Saturday night with the family of his daughter, Mrs. John Woody of this community.

Little Misses Ova Lee and Grace Middleton left Saturday for a few days' visit to relatives near Rockdale.

Miss Florence Jones motored to Thorndale Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Camp and Misses Fay Felton and Anna Mae Camp, also Jim Guthrie, were Odd Fellows and Rebekahs from San Gabriel I. O. O. F. and Rebekah lodges attending the County Association of Odd Fellow and Rebekah lodges meeting at Liberty Hill, Texas, last Tuesday.

The Cameron boosters reached our village in the afternoon of last Wednesday. We highly welcomed them with their good talks, music, treats, etc. and enjoyed their brief stay among us.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones and little Ruby visited relatives in Beakiss last week continuing their visit also to Austin and other places above that city.

Messrs. Jim Guthrie and son, Alvin and William Locklin were camping on the Llano part of last week.

Mrs. F. M. Amason has gone to North Texas to visit her mother.

Little Miss Inez Goff was listed with the sick a day last week.

Messrs. Vernon Fleming and Ernest Foster of Rockdale were here with J. S. Woody and family Friday Friday night.

Messrs. Buck and John Perry returned Sunday from an extended visit in North Texas.

Will Lee spent part of last week in Port Arthur.

Miss Isabelle Camp is a guest of her sister in Dallas this week.

CARD OF THANKS

We thank our many dear friends and neighbors who were so faithful and willing to aid us during the illness and death of our beloved father. May God bless each of you.

CAMERON BUSINESS MEN VISITED MILANO WEDNESDAY

The Cameron business men and trade boosters arrived in Milano Wednesday morning at about 9:30 o'clock and remained here for a half hour. There were some 30 odd cars and trucks in the line-up and about 150 boosters. They brought a feeling of good will along and seemed to be in extra good spirits. A good band of some 20 odd instruments rendered two selections of music and helped to put a bright finish touch to the caravan.

The J. B. Newton & Sons store had prepared a large number of ice cold water melons for the visitors and when they arrived found all the sliced melon they wished. Just before leaving Judge W. G. Gillis greeted the Milano people and told them they appreciated the reception that was accorded them at Milano. Then the "all-aboard" whistle blew and auto horns and whistles began making a goodbye noise and the procession turned around on Main Plaza and then went its way toward Rockdale. We have but one regret of the visit, and that is they failed to let the Milano people know they were coming and only a few citizens had heard of it.—Milano Gazette.

Is Bailey Eligible

The Texas Constitution provides that the Governor "shall have resided in this State at least five years immediately preceding his election."

Bailey does not deny that he sold his home in Cooke County, Texas, and that for some ten or twelve years he has lived with his family in Washington, having purchased a residence there. But he says he considers his home in Cooke County, Texas, because he still owns a cemetery lot in Gainesville. How do the Democrats of Cooke County, whom he would call his home people and his neighbors, consider the question of his residence? In convention assembled at Gainesville on the 31st day of July, 1920, by resolution they declared, in part, as follows:

"It is our judgment that J. W. Bailey is not a resident of Texas or eligible to hold the office of Governor, and we believe he is not resident of this town or county and has no lawful right to take part in our primaries or elections."

STOCK ABOUT FREE FROM FEVER TICKS

Cameron, Texas, August 9.—Tick eradication work in Milam County has simmered down to the opposition. Only those who are opposed to the work, or have been so opposed, now have ticks on their premises. It is only a matter of law enforcement now in the work for this county. The cattle owner who was willing to co-operate and who has done so is practically without the pest on his premises. The following data is given as proof of the above statements:

March, 698; April 491; May, 256; June, 271; July 251.

By consulting the above table it is readily seen that the man who has had ticks this season has either co-operated and gotten free of them or he has resisted our efforts and still has his premises tick-infested. Many of the herds yet remaining infested will clean up the end of the season, and those who do not, along with those which have shown ticks since the of August will be held under local quarantine, providing the county is released from general quarantine, and these will be compelled to dip their cattle next year and until the premises are tick free. There is no evasion of this as the presence of ticks brings the owner or caretaker along with those exposed to him under the provisions of the present law in force in this State. Are you co-operating, or have you ticky cattle and premises? Get your cattle and premises on the Honor Roll. Be classed as progressive and law abiding. The county is apparently in good shape to be released from general quarantine on next December first. Are you in shape to go with the majority of cattle owners or are you the laggard who will have to clean up after the others are thru with the task? It depends upon you, yourself, as those in charge of the work in this county have and are using every effort to have you go with the majority and be relieved of further necessity of doing this most urgent and profitable work.

Veterinary Inspector, in charge Tick Eradication, Milam County, Texas.

ROCKDALE EXTENDS GENEROUS NEIGHBORLY WELCOME TO COUNTY SEAT BOOSTERS

The Cameron business men invaded Rockdale Wednesday morning on their first trade extension trip. They came some 200 strong in forty automobiles arriving from Milano about 10:30 a. m., and remaining nearly an hour as guests of this city.

The Rockdale Chamber of Commerce had made all arrangements for a suitable reception of the visitors—in fact it was a royal reception. The ladies of the city were out in force and pinned a rose on each and every one of the visitors, men like Jeff Kemp getting three or four roses. Then a bevy of beautiful Rockdale girls passed around among the crowd and each visitor was handed a plate of ice cream with spoon.

Mayor H. C. Meyer and President E. A. Camp of the Chamber of Commerce, were on hand to welcome the boosters, and Mr. Camp delivered a short address of welcome, congratulating our neighbor city on the progressiveness and boosting qualities of her citizenship and extending them a cordial welcome and a pressing invitation to come again. This was responded to by Judge W. G. Gillis, one of the most gifted speakers in Central Texas, who responded in kind. The speakers spoke from a truck on the public square. The visitors brought with them the Cameron Brass Band, which rendered several splendid selections.

The advent of the boosters into the city was welcomed by the ringing of bells and blowing of whistles, every bell and whistle in the city being brought into service, including the water works siren. The people of Rockdale had turned out in number and the streets were lined with cars while a crowd of several hundred gathered to hear the speaking.

The boosters departed at 11:30 for their next stop at Thorndale, carrying with them an increased regard for Rockdale, and leaving behind pleasant recollections of a friendly and neighborly visit.—Rockdale Reporter.

A FOOL AT 40

It is an old proverb that every man is either a fool or a physician at 40. Well, I fooled along for 40 years in the practice of pharmacy and the study of medicine and therapeutics before I discovered the wonderful prescription for Number 40 For The Blood. There is more of this wonderful prescription sold and used by the people of our home city than all other blood medicines combined. It is indicated in all depraved conditions of the system; in blood troubles, in sores, ulcers, eczema and skin diseases; in chronic rheumatism, catarrh, constipation, stomach, kidney and liver troubles. J. C. Mendenhall, Evansville, Ind., 40 years a druggist. "I suffered from 12 to 18 months with a nervous breakdown, said by physicians to be sciatic neuralgia, causing general toxic poisoning. Seeing your advertisement in the San Antonio Express, I called on Dr. A. M. Fisher, Druggist. He recommended Number 40 which I have been using for three months and I have received great benefit from it. Sleep well, good appetite, have gained several pounds, get up feeling fresh every morning. Have no pains. My nervous system has become nearly normal." Respectfully, J. L. Dupree, 1715 Common St., Houston, Texas.

ROCKDALE PUBLIC SCHOOLS WILL OPEN SEPTEMBER 13

The School Board met Saturday night and transacted routine business. The date for opening the fall term of school was fixed for September 13. The Teachers' Institute will occupy the week prior to school opening.

The High School faculty was completed by the employment of Miss Virginia Ward, of Austin, who is a graduate of State University.

The Board also elected Miss Mattie Williams of Caldwell to a position in the Intermediate Department. Also Miss Nettie Turner of this city for grade work. All subject to assignment of the superintendent.

Supt. Marshall announced the receipt of a letter from the State Supervisor of Public Schools stating that the Rockdale school had been allowed affiliation credits of two units on French. The supervisor's letter stated: "Excellent work; the original composition work is particularly strong." This brings the school's total up to 17½, just where it was before we lost two units by reason of eliminating German from the course of study.—Rockdale Reporter.

NAVY RECRUITING ACTIVITIES

The War's over—but not for the Navy Recruiting service. The Navy has four separate and distinct "extras" under way, and each one of these represents a field of its own, with its own individual opportunities and possibilities of advancement, for those that take advantage of it.

The Submarine wants good men, preferably ex-Navy men and ex-Army men, but most of all trustworthy, responsible men. The pay "on the boat" is about $20.00 more than for serving afloat, and nearly all the comforts of home can be enjoyed by the personnel on the large, seagoing, ocean crossing submarines.

The Hospital Corps needs to be filled by bright lads who desire to take up the study of Pharmacy and enjoy life on large or small craft without some of the rigors with the deck force undergo. These boys graduate from the Navy School for Pharmacists and are at once given the rating of a petty officer and a responsible detail on shipboard.

Naval Reserves in all the various branches are wanted back in the regular service. The new and liberal rates of pay have brought many back to the Navy. They heard the sea calling them and they came back in the lower rating and found a royal road to advancement awaiting them.

The latest offer and to some minds the best bet of all, awaits the Gunners' Mates, Boatswains' Mates, Quartermasters, in fact literally all hands and the ship's cooks. And that "extra" is destroyer duty in foreign waters.

The Torpedo boat destroyers Brooks, Gilmer, Fox and Overton are now being fitted out at the Philadelphia Navy Yard for immediate duty in European and near Eastern waters. There are vacancies on the destroyers for Boatswains' Mates, 1st class, Boatswains' Mates, 2nd class, Coxswains, Gunners' Mates (Ordnance), Gunners' Mates (Torpedo), Quartermasters (Signal), Quartermasters (Navigation), Seaman and Seamen 2nd class, Electricians (General), Electricians (Radio), Carpenter's Mates, Storekeepers, Machinists' Mates, Engineers, Water Tenders, Boilermakers, Blacksmiths, Coppersmiths, Firemen, Pharmacists' Mates, Commissary stewards, Ships' Cooks, Officers' Cooks, and Stewards and Mess Attendants.

The ships will sail filled up with old timers as soon as they are manned. Probably when the news is noised abroad they won't wait long for "up anchor" and proceed in column down the Delaware for Europe and Asia.

The following enlistments were made at the local Navy Recruiting Station, 201 Binz Building, Houston, Texas, for week ending August 5, 1920.

The good roads movement has been given tremendous impetus in Northern Ontario by the recently completed 1,400 mile tour of boosters held under the auspices of the Michigan Pikes Association.

Consisting of 60 cars and trucks carrying more than 200 motor enthusiasts, this motorcade—probably the largest ever assembled—traveled roads unknown to motor cars in order to stimulate construction of a highway that will enable motorists to travel through Ontario via Windsor, Toronto, North Bay and the Soo. It is hoped ultimately to bring about completion of the northern highway in Ontario to enable tourists to motor thru the summer resort country, entering Canada either at the Soo or Windsor and travel in a circle described by going from the Soo to North Bay and Toronto.

Starting from Detroit with a total of 60 cars, including three kitchen trucks, motorized lighting plant and shower bath truck, the motorcade traveled for 15 days, meeting with an even more enthusiastic reception than on five previous trips that had resulted in boosting construction of modern roads.

W. D. Edenburn, automobile editor of the Detroit News, was tour manager. Over 90 road meetings were held on the tour, among the speakers being Hon. F. C. Biggs, minister of public works, Ontario; Hon. Albert Grigg, deputy minister of lands and forests; Dr. P. E. Doolittle, president Dominion Good Roads Association; L. E. Allen, president Good Roads Association; Horatio S. Earle, father of good roads Michigan, Frank S. Rogers, Michigan State Highway Commissioner, and Capt. W. S. Gilbreath, promoter and founder of the Dixie highway.

Among the features of the tour that attracted great attention were Ford band of 37 pieces and the Good-year truck that holds the coast-to-coast record of 14 days and which has traveled 120,000 miles since 1917.

As Dead as the Dodo

Every druggist in town—your druggist and everybody's druggist has noticed a great falling off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tone is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggist.

Take "Dodson's Liver Tone" Instead!

Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle costs but a few cents, and if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults.

Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work! Take Dodson's Liver Tone instead and feel fine, full of vigor and ambition.

Improve Your Farm Interiors NOW

NOW—before you are busy with field work—is the time to make your home, garage, dairy barn, chicken house, granary and milk house warmer, clean and sanitary.

Strong, rigid Cornell Wood Board, that takes the place of plaster, will quickly and easily accomplish all this at little expense.

"Cornell 32" for Farm Buildings

The 32-inch width—a Cornell feature—makes attractive panels for hallways, small rooms and borders and cuts very economically for outbuildings on the farm. However for large barns, etc., the 48-inch width is more desirable.

Both the 32 and 48 inch widths are guaranteed not to warp, crack, buckle or chip if directions for applying are followed. The special Cornell Triple-Sizing Process—which protects against moisture, expansion and contraction—makes this guarantee possible. Paint or calcimine can be immediately applied. The oatmeal finish—mill-primed surface (both sides) saves the cost and labor of a sizing coat.

Stop in the next time you are in town for samples of this remarkable board, estimates and names of neighbors who are improving their farm buildings with Cornell.

Bailey For Governor

Senator Bailey Will Speak in Cameron

Wednesday, August 18th

At 3 O'clock P. M.

The Third, Fourth and Twenty-Second questions contained in the Questionnaire sent to candidates by the Labor Political Committee are as follows:

"No. 3. Do you stand for, and will you support the General Legislative Program of the American Federation of Labor, and are you willing to take advice and counsel and vote for the recommendations of duly accredited legislative representatives of the Texas Federation of Labor on all matters that they may seek either to have enacted into law or defeated?"

NOTE: Do you understand that you cannot favor the Open Shop Square Deal Association if you are for Organized Labor because it is the antithesis of Trades Unionism?

"No. 4. Are you in favor of the Peaceful Picketing, and will you VOTE FOR LAWS FOR ITS PROTECTION? Answer:—"

No. 22. Will you favor the enactment of a law in Texas making it punishable by a fine or imprisonment, or both, for the importation of workers from one State to another, unless, full notice that a strike is on, shall always accompany any advertisement or verbal invitation to such workers to go from one State to another, or from one city to another? Answer:—"

Senator Bailey said he would answer these questions publicly, and he has done so. Below is his answer made in his Brownwood speech as reported by the Dallas News.

If labor secures a law as suggested in the twenty-second question how would the cotton crop of Texas ever be harvested?

Mr. Bailey continued in this language:

"Many union labor men in this State agree with me in this position and they will vote for me despite a systematic attempt to prevent them doing so. They know as well as I do that these new and extreme demands, by the present leaders of organized labor are alienating public sympathy from their order; and if the leaders were wise enough to take counsel would themselves see on every hand that they should desist. Then years ago you could not find a man in this State, save those rare exceptions which always prove the rule, who had anything to say against labor unions.

"The union men must know that this condition must be due to what the labor leaders have been doing. The public would not have changed its attitude toward the unions except that the unions have changed their attitude toward the public. They are forcing the public to oppose them or else acquiesce in their unreasonable demands, which is another way of saying that they have yet to go a little farther until they will convince most thoughtful men in this country that the union is a menace to domestic peace. I would save us from that situation if I could, but I know that the only way that we can do that is for the unions themselves to repudiate the leaders who began by demanding the right to run everybody's business and are now bold enough to demand the right to govern this State.

Open Shop an Issue

Following the lead of The Dallas News, Mr. Neff and his friends are everywhere declaring that the open shop is not an issue in this campaign, and they assert that I am attempting to make an issue of it simply to serve my political advantage. They have even gone so far as first to insinuate and then to declare that the now notorious red circular was printed and circulated, if not by us, at least with our connivance. If they believe what they say they are woefully ignorant of the facts.

"On the 7th of May, exactly one week after the presidential conventions, a statement was given out from the offices of the American Federation of Labor in Washington in which it was claimed that the labor unions had accomplished my defeat.

Evidence on Red Circular

"But even if we didn't have the statement of the American Federation of Labor to confirm the red circular, we would know by looking at the face of this red circular that they were issued by those acting in behalf of union labor, because every one of them carries the union label. Nobody believes that a union print shop could have been induced to issue a spurious circular which the enemies of union labor were pretending to circulate on union labor's behalf. Indeed, my countrymen, the feeling among union printers is so intense that when my friends went to a printing office to have circulars printed announcing that I would speak at San Angelo union printers refused to put the union label on the circular and told the owners of the office, so I was informed, that they would strike before they would put the union label on a circular announcing a speaking date for me."

"I hold in my hand a questionnaire issued by the nonpartisan political committee of the Dallas Central Council for submission to all candidates of all parties, and that circular deals with the open shop question with much greater length than it does with any other question. Indeed, it more than a question and is inserted after question 3 in the form of a note. Let me first read you question No. 3 and then the note under it:

Open Shop Question

Question No. 3 follows: Do you stand for and will you support the general legislative program of the American Federation of Labor, and are you willing to take advice and counsel and vote for the recommendations of duly accredited legislative representatives of the Texas Federation of Labor on all matters that they may seek either to have enacted into law or defeated?

Then the note: "Do you understand that you can not favor the Open Shop (Square Deal) Association if you are for organized labor, because it is the antithesis or trades unionism? Its purpose is not in agreement with its name and declaration because:

(a) Its assumed attitude of great concern for the unorganized workmen is but a blind to cover up its inner secret purpose and positive demand to disorganize all organized labor.

(b) That the whole open shop movement carries with it no idea of fairness or "square deal" to all workers, but utter destruction of all forms of collective bargaining and control of shops by unions.

(c) That the promoters of the open shop principle are determined that they, and they alone, shall dictate wages, hours, length of day, and that they shall decide all matters of shop rules; in other words, they propose to substitute for the workers' present plans and organizations their own plans and organizations.

(d) That the open shop movement is Nation-wide and a concrete expression of the employers of labor for the accomplishment of the stated purpose.

Why It is Not an Issue

"In the face of this question, submitted by the nonpartisan political committee, no intelligent man can any longer doubt, and no candid man will ever again deny, that the open shop is an issue in this campaign and has been made so by the labor unions themselves. With that question submitted to every candidate, there was no way to avoid making the open shop an issue in this campaign except for every candidate to evade it or answer it to the satisfaction of labor unions.

"I answer it, not in any secret communication, because I do not believe in this secret correspondence between candidates and classes; I answered it in a public speech and my answer was that I am in favor of the open shop and against the closed shop. That answer made the issue, but responsibility for the issue is upon those that demand that every candidate shall be against the closed shop."

"My countrymen, it is not only an issue introduced into the campaign by the labor unions themselves, but it is a vital issue, and it ought to be frankly met by every man who seeks the suffrage of the people."—Dallas News, August 6, Bailey's Brownwood speech.

As to Neff's Land Plank Bailey Says:

"I've got no patience," he went on, "with this demagogic appeal to the tenant farmer promising him to take away somebody else's land and give it to him. The tenant farmers are prosperous and many farmers prefer to rent land than to own it. A merchant rents the house in which he sells goods because he figures he had better use his capital in moving his merchandise than in constructing a house and owning the land upon which his store stands. A tenant farmer rents the land upon which he grows his crop and finds it cheaper to do so than to own the high-priced land in some sections of the State, valued at several hundred dollars an acre, and paying taxes on it.

"Just as well talk about taking building lots from those who own more than one and giving them to the tenant merchants as to talk about taking land from one man and giving it to another. Just as well talk about buying a home for a mechanic in the city as for a farmer in the country.

"Self-reliance is the characteristic of a great people; dependence is the characteristic of a weak people. There never was a people who ate out of the hands of an indulgent government that didn't bite the hand that fed them when they found that hand empty (applause). Whenever the time comes that the politicians shall decide how much property a man has the right to own the end of our civilization is in sight."—Bailey's San Angelo speech.

American Party Endorses Closed Shop

The American Party in convention at Fort Worth August 10th, adopted a Plank endorsing the closed shop and recommending the extension of its principles to the farming element was unanimously adopted by the State Convention of the American party at the First Baptist Church Auditorium Tuesday afternoon.

Former Governor James E. Ferguson in his keynote speech at the morning session, expressed his allegiance to the closed shop policy.

The plank adopted by the convention reads:

We not only recognize the necessity for the closed shop for the protection of the laboring masses in industrial lines, but we recommend that the principle be extended to the farming masses so that those who make crops can get better prices for their products and pay better wages to labor that makes the crops.

Democrats Denounced.

McGregor was unanimously nominated candidate for governor and in his speech of acceptance declared for the closed shop and unionizing for the labor.

Ex-governor Ferguson predicted that the American Party would poll 175,000 votes in November. He did not say how so small a vote could win. The truth is now apparent.

McGregor and Ferguson are out for the purpose, and only for the purpose, of beating Joe Bailey, August 28th, by keeping voters out of the primary.
